Police go to court to preserve status

By HENRY CANTIN

A lawsuit seeking to block enforcement of a contract between the City of Romulus and the Wayne County Sheriff's Department for law enforcement services in Romulus has been initiated in Wayne County Circuit Court by the Romulus Police Officers Association (RPOA).

The court action, started last Thursday in an attempt to save the jobs of the present 10-man city police force, was filed by Edward P. Joseph of Flint, attorney for the Fraternal Order of Police (FOP).

The court litigation requests the issuance of a temporary restraining order against the City of Romulus and its mayor, Hyle Carmichael, Wayne County Sheriff William B. Lucas and Albert Zak, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, which controls the Sheriff's Department.

Circuit Judge Charles S. Farmer has directed the defendants to show cause at 2 p.m. today (Wednesday) why the temporary restraining order should not be issued.

Mayor Carmichael, when served with the court suit, referred the court's show cause order and the association's complaint to City Attorney John E. Young.

In the absence of the mayor from the city, an administration spokesman stated that it was the position of the city that no violation of the provisions of the contract or state statutes in relation to present police personnel exists.

The suit charges that the city has violated terms of a current employment contract with the Romulus Police Officers Association, sole bargaining agent for the present staff of police officers, when the city contracted with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department to furnish 24-hour police services to the City of Romulus.

The suit further charges that, unless the city and the county are restrained from carrying out the terms of the city-county contractual law enforcement contract "the effect of said contract shall do irreparable harm to the employee represented by the plaintiff (police association) in that it shall deny to them their rights under the existing contract to which the City of Romulus is bound and which shall deny them their rights granted to them under the Michigan Employees Relation Act."

"And it shall do further irreparable harm to the plaintiff in that the police department of the City of Romulus shall no longer exist which is contrary to the rights of the plaintiffs and the Charter of the City of Romulus."

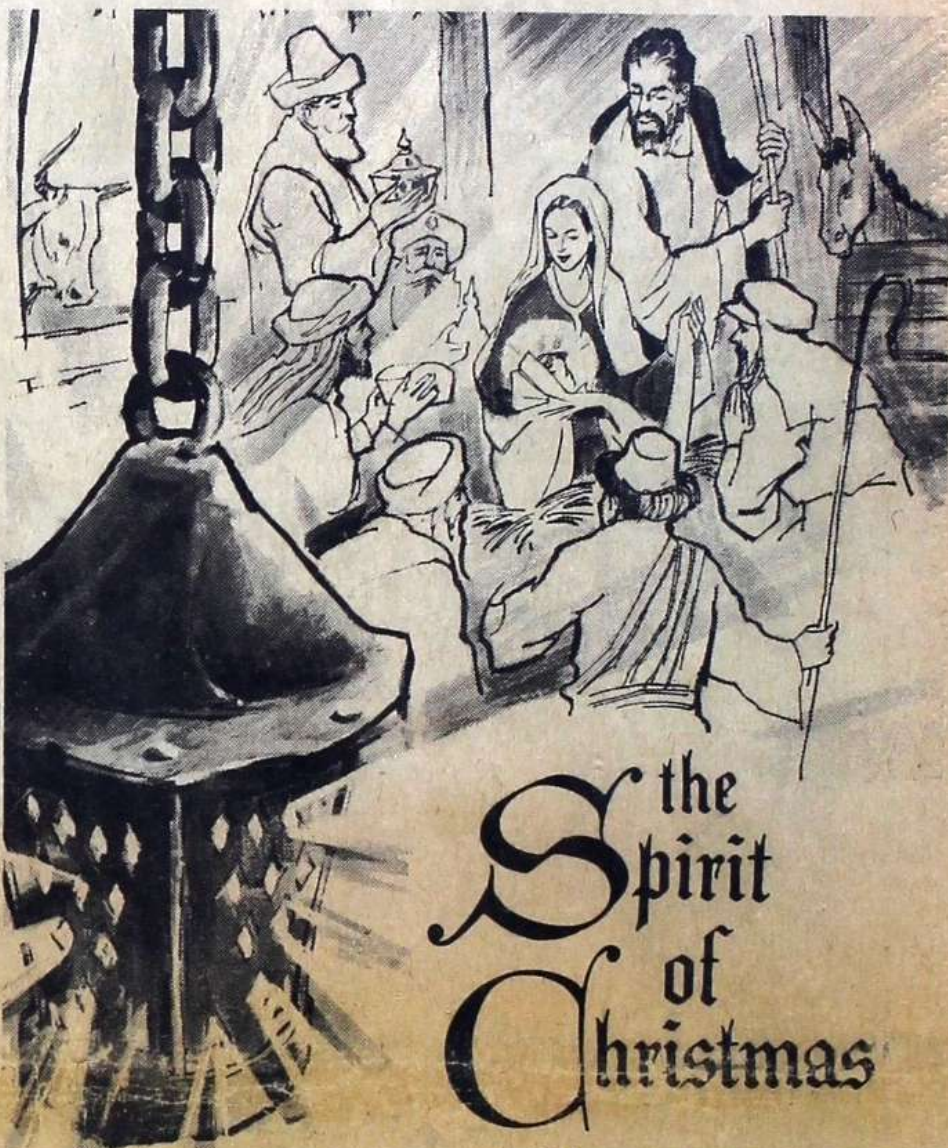

Under the five-year contract signed Dec. 10 by the city and the Sheriff's Department and which will cost the city $348,000 its first year, Romulus would have 10 deputies assigned to the city on a 24-hour average. Romulus is a 23,000-resident community.

The complete services and equipment of the sheriff's office would be available at all times to the community. Also under the contract, to take effect next month, the present Romulus police officers would be transferred to the Sheriff's Department with their present rank and seniority intact.

The city-county contract was set up after months of negotiations, numerous council sessions and even a public hearing before citizens groups.

Mayor Carmichael and members of City Council stated that the contract was the only way that Romulus, Western Wayne County's newest city, can get adequate

the Spirit of Christmas

May the light of love and understanding that bathed the world on the eve of His Birth shine upon you and kindle your heart with everlasting joy. Let us rejoice as we cherish the blessings of this holy season.

Christians ponder night of long ago

In area churches this Christmas season, Christians everywhere gather to commemorate the miracle of a holy night nearly 2,000 years ago with special Christmas Services.

The message of Christmas lives anew in candlelight and carols, in pageants and in prayers.

"And suddenly there was with an angel a multitude of the heavenly hosts praising God in the highest and on earth peace, good will toward men." - Luke 2:13-14.

Joyfully the happiness of Christmas finds expression in music and song. Choirs sing the praises of the Babe of Bethlehem, and sacred hymns and carols reflect the spirit of rejoicing. Even as the herald angels sang to shepherds long ago, so now exultant voices join in proclaiming the Birth of Christ, with "on earth peace, good will toward men."

"And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which has come to pass, which the Lord hath made known to us.

"And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the Babe lying in a manger." Luke 2:15-16.

Along with the joyous exultation, there is a spirit of thankful humility in celebration on this holy day.

In both area churches and private devotionals, Christians ponder anew the word of the Christmas story, as it was told by two of His disciples, Matthew and Luke.

And it beheld symbolically, in Nativity scenes that, by treasured tradition, recreate the manger of His birth.

Thus Christmas is celebrated, joyfully, prayerfully, solemnly, with dedication to its sacred meaning.

The Child born in a manger was the Son of God, destined to take up the burdens of mankind and bear them to the cross, where He died that the spirit of man might live forever.

Huron terrorist sought

Police arrest two suspects

Two men, one from Belleville, are held on armed robbery charges and a third man is still sought in connection with the alleged terrorizing of five members of a family at a large farmhouse in Huron Township last Wednesday.

In custody are William R. Mack, 27, of 25046 Martinsville Rd., Belleville, and Willie F. McClain, 23, who listed his address as 8856 MacArthur Rd. Ypsilanti.

Mack, who was arrested while waiting in an apparent lookout car at the scene while the two other men allegedly terrorized the family, is being held under a $10,000 bond on robbery armed charges before District Court Judge James B. Stone of Romulus.

McClain was arrested last Friday when he appeared in Washtenaw Circuit Court on charges involving another crime. He is also held on a $10,000 bond following a Monday arraignment before Judge Stone.

The third man, identified by State Police as Isaiah V. Williams, 24, of 48000 Wear Rd., of Belleville, was still at large Monday afternoon.

The trio allegedly attempted to rob Clarence Otter, 54, of 25330 Otter Rd., New Boston, and members of his family. Otter, a 200-pound farmer and Army veteran, was shot in the leg by one of the two men who forced their way into his home located on his 800-acre farm, is recovering in Seaway Hospital, Trenton.

State Police troopers from the Flat Rock post rushed to the home after receiving a hushed phone call from one family member, who had not been found by the alleged bandits.

Otter, in describing his experience with the two holdup men, said from his hospital bed said:

"There were two young men on the porch," he recalled. "They said their car was in the ditch and would I call a

Tax break adjusted

Seniors' exemptions cited

State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak, 38th District (D) Romulus, has reminded local homeowners who will be 65 years old by the end of this year that they may be eligible for an exemption on the property tax on their homestead.

"This senior citizen's exemption of $2,500 has been available in Michigan for some years for those who qualify," Mahalak said. "The qualifications were relaxed under a legislative act signed into law early this year."

Previous to that act, Mahalak explained, the exemptions were possible only for those senior citizen homeowners with an income of no more than $5,000 a year and property valued at no more than $10,000 in state equalized valuation.

The 1970 law, which Mahalak co-sponsored, increased the income limit to $6,000 and eliminated the restrictions on the value of the property.

"This opened the exemption to thousands of senior citizens who had not qualified for it," Mahalak pointed out. "In addition, it restored the exemptions to countless others who had once qualified but who lost it because of an increase in their property value or a slight rise in their income."

Mahalak advised persons 65 years old or older who believe they may qualify for the tax exemption to contact their local assessor. The applications for the exemption must be turned in before the final filing date in March, he said. Mahalak added that the applications for exemptions must be filed on an annual basis.

"I feel that this small but well deserved tax break is important to senior citizens," he said. "Our retirees are already pinched by the inflationary costs of living which they must try to meet with what is usually a fixed retirement income. I hope that all senior citizens who feel they may be eligible will take advantage of this property tax exemption."

Goodfellows say 'thanks'

An expression of sincere appreciation to all who served as newsboys and to those who have contributed to this year's Goodfellows Fund Campaign was issued Monday by Gerald Maton, president of the Belleville-Van Buren Goodfellows Association.

To the VFW Post 4434 of Belleville, sponsors of this year's newspaper sale, to students who conducted volunteer food and clothing drives for the Goodfellows, and to area firms and organizations that have assisted the Goodfellows, a special thanks was issued by Maton.

Among the latest contributors to the Goodfellows cause was the distributions of foodbaskets to some needy families in the Belleville-Van Buren area by members of the Wanderers Motorcycle Club, located at Belleville and Ecorse Rds.

The food baskets were prepared by club member and delivered directly to the homes of the needy families, Maton disclosed.

South students, Goodfellows join forces

Several large bags filled with toys will be on their way this week to homes of needy families of the community with wishes for a Merry Christmas.

Students of South Junior High School, especially two eighth graders Margaret Hogan and Connie Eggers, were responsible for the project.

The two young students, wanting to do something for the Goodfellows and their drive to bring a happy Christmas to the area's needy families, thought of a new and used toy pick-up campaign.

A week or so ago, the two girls approached teacher Alan Charette, who is also Student Council sponsor about the project.

He urged the girls to get the approval and support the Student Activities Council.

The council not only approved, but wanted to help. The entire student body joined in the toy pick-up.

The toys collected by the students and others that were contributed filled several large cleaner bags with toys.

A pick up truck delivered the toys to the Goodfellows last Wednesday.

It's the happy time!

We send our wishes for a merry season of gatherings with families and friends. And it's the time to say thanks for letting us serve you.

The pleasure has been ours. We look forward to more Christmases with you.

Postmasters ask residents to cooperate

Bad road conditions and severe weather in winter sometimes make it impossible for motorized city and rural carriers to make deliveries to curb and roadside boxes.

cooperation in assisting mail carriers in making their mail deliveries. The postmasters stated:

While city and rural carriers delivering by motor vehicle make every reasonable effort to serve their patrons during severe winter weather, they are not required to provide service on foot nor to leave their vehicles in order to reach boxes obstructed by deep snow or hazardous to reach because of slippery road conditions.

Postal patrons are responsible for keeping approaches to boxes clear of snow, and all other obstructions, which make delivery of mail difficult or at times impossible.

Failure to open approaches to boxes promptly after heavy snows may temporarily prevent carriers from making deliveries.

Patrons served by foot carriers should keep their walks and steps cleared of snow and ice.

Falls by foot carriers during winter weather are a serious and expensive problem for the U.S. Postal Service.

Last winter foot carriers in the nation suffered 3,100 injuries from falls which cost the government approximately $1,400,000.

The post office, Postmaster O'Neil said, earnestly enlists the cooperation of its patrons in keeping disruptions of service to a minimum during bad winter weather.

Postal hours shortened

The post offices at Belleville and Romulus will be closed both Christmas Day and Saturday, according to Postmasters Raymond O'Neil of Belleville and George Austin of Romulus.

There will be no window service or route mail delivery on Saturday. Mail can be received at the post offices and dispatched.

The post office lobbies in both cities will be opened for the deposit of mail and for post office box holders.

Hours for the lobbies to be open are from noon to 2 p.m. Christmas Day and from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

Postal officials in Washington authorized the reduced operation schedule to permit postal employees to spend more time with their families during the Christmas observance.

Sabo seated early

John N. Sabo Jr., has begun his tenure as Wayne County Commissioner from District 24 a couple of weeks early as a result of the resignation of Edmund Bizek.

The Board of Commissioners appointed Sabo for the vacant seat last week. He was due to take the seat Jan. 1 as a result of his victory in the Nov. 3 election.

Sabo defeated Bizek by a narrow margin in the Aug. 4 primary contest for the Democratic nomination. Bizek resigned Dec. 3, in order to be eligible for appointment to the County Road Commission by the Board of Commissioners, but failed to win the appointment.

Sabo, a barber, has been active in the local Democratic Party for many years. He turned the tables in the District 24 race after being defeated by Bizek by 48 votes in the 1968 primary.

District 24 encompasses parts of Taylor and Westland, plus the cities of Romulus, Wayne and Belleville, and Van Buren and Sumpter townships.

The Board of Commissioners will hold its first meeting of the new two-year term at 2 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 5 in the City-County Building auditorium, Detroit. The first order of business will be election of a chairman and vice chairman.

Classes to start for young adults

Young people of the Romulus school area who have not completed high school have a unique opportunity to return to school and learn a trade.

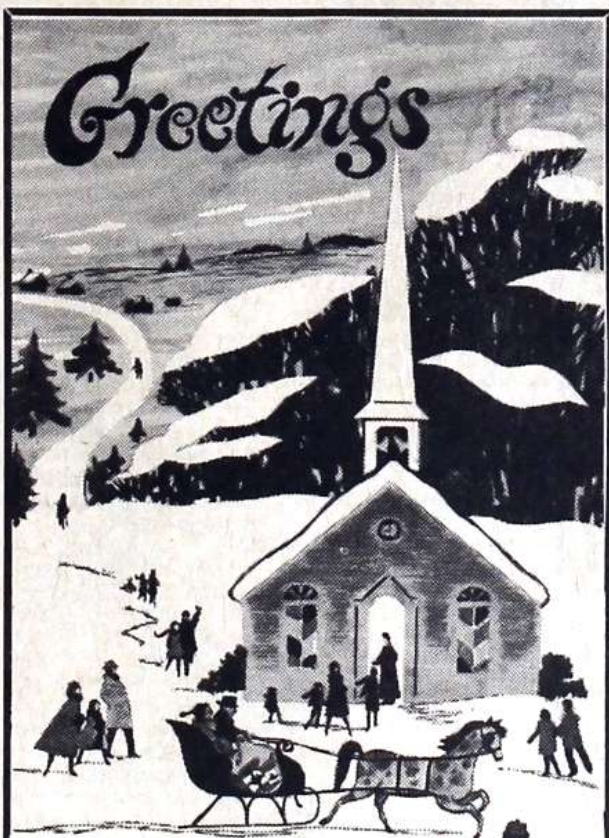

Under a federal funded program for out-of-school youth, two vocational classes have been initiated this year, according to Lorena Burton, state and federal coordinator.

Cosmetology and auto mechanics are the first two classes offered in weekday afternoon and Saturday sessions to provide an opportunity to learn skills to hold jobs in those or related fields.

Mrs. Burton said that the classes are free to any young person over the age of 16 who has not received his high school diploma.

Registrations can be made for these programs by contacting Mrs. Burton at 941-1600, ext. 29.

The spirit of Christmas is in the air, ringing out joy and good will. We take this time to extend to all greetings and thanks.

wrecker. I said OK and started for the telephone after shutting the door.

"Something didn't seem just right about them, but out in the country we're used to helping out so I didn't think too much about it."

Suddenly one of the men, according to Otter, pulled a gun. Otter grabbed for it and there was a blast. Otter fell as the men barged in.

His wife, Louise, dashed out the kitchen and "just screamed for them to get out of the house," she said. "They said be quiet or they'd kill us all."

The intruders bound the Otters and two of their children, Brian, 14, and Kevin 12, with electric cords ripped off lamps and a radio and pulled pillowcases over their victims' heads, Otter said.

One of the men reportedly went upstairs and brought down daughter, Joan, who they also bound.

However the thugs missed two other Otter children, Alan, 21, and Karen, 23, who hid upstairs listening to what was happening. Alan lifted the upstairs extension phone and called Huron Township Police.

Within minutes, a State Police squad car arrived and troopers arrested a man seated in a suspected getaway car a short distance from the home.

The man was later identified as Mack, police said.

The two thugs in the house apparently saw the police car and bolted out the back door, leaving their tracks in the fresh snow of a cornfield as they fled.

Police officers followed the tracks for nearly four miles before losing the fugitives.

McClain, in addition to the armed robbery and burglary charges, is also awaiting trial on another burglary accusation and a charge of cultivating marijuana, police reported.

Executive session scheduled

An informal executive session of the Huron Board of Education will be held at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 4 in the Hannan Road Elementary School.

The meeting is being held to start work on up-dating and revising current school policies.

The matter of school policies has been under discussion by citizens groups and school officials for the last several weeks.

police protection without too great an expense.

The RPOA charges in its suit that this contract violates the terms of the City Charter. The suit contends that provisions of the City Charter require the city to maintain a police Department and Police Department is required to be a "city" police department.

"The charter says that we must develop our own Police Department. The sheriff's road patrol can't qualify for that," Robert Pigeon, RPOA trustee said.

The police also reported that their contract runs until April, 1972.

Pigeon stated, that the RPOA has no quarrel with the Sheriff's Department. He said that, as far as salary was concerned, Romulus police officers would receive more in the turnover.

The Romulus Police Department's present pay range is 19,600 maximum.

The sheriff's Department pay scale is $8,500 a year to start, with a $12,000 maximum after four years.

"We have a contract with the city. They gave us a 'take-it-or-leave-it' ultimatum. We turned them down, so they are paying us back," Pigeon added.

In our opinion

Nation's youth get voting responsibility

In a sweeping reform move, the United States Supreme Court ruled this week that 18 year olds can vote in congressional and presidential elections.

We are pleased to see the move. We went on record just prior to the Nov. 3 elections as being in favor of lowering the voting age on a statewide level. Unfortunately, the voters of Michigan did not see things our way, and defeated the proposed age limit amendment to the State Constitution.

Now the Supreme Court has granted the franchise to some 11 million citizens between the ages of 18 and 21.

Now that the youth of the nation has the right to vote, at least on a federal level, we hope that they will keep our confidence, and prove that it was warranted. Young men and women can now register to vote for the next congressional election in November 1972, and we'd like to see the various clerks' offices in the area swamped with applications.

Registering to vote requires five minutes of time at the city or township office and will grant youth in the area a voice in their national affairs.

At the same time, we realize some of the absurdity which might now plague Michigan voters — that is, having youths vote for various federal government candidates, yet not having any voice concerning their local officials.

We hope the situation can be rectified shortly, with the electorate of Michigan concurring with the wisdom of the Supreme Court and approving a statewide amendment granting the right of franchise to all segments of the society.

Although congressional and presidential races are important to the nation's progress, we would like to see youth given the voice in decisions concerning more local issues. It is at this grass roots level of government that candidates for national positions begin their careers.

Then too, important decisions on a state and local level can affect youth just as much as those made on a national level.

Scriptures scenes abound in Bibleland

BETHLEHEM In 2,000 years, time has only faintly brushed the bleak Judean country around this little town of Christ's birth.

Now, at Christmas tide, winter has washed the hills and fields in tawny browns, leaden grays and olive drabs.

Low overhead in the palest of Mediterranean skies, wispy cumulus scud, silently eastward to cross the Dead Sea and pile up above the desolate mountains of Moab.

This is Bible country. Wherever you look, scenes from the scriptures dramatically materialize.

In the fields below the old Crusader Church of the Nativity, but within easy hearing of the bells of Bethlehem, shepherds still tend their flocks as shepherds did on the night of His birth.

They guard against the bitter night wrapped in long sweeping robes, faces and heads muffled in colorful keffiyehs. An aging patriarch, staff in hand, limps painfully across the rocky earth, trailed by a lamp.

Ungainly camels and their Bedouin Arab masters plodding home across the Judean desert remind one of a similar caravan that must have brought the Eastern Wise Men to their journey's end under Bethlehem's brilliant star.

Much of the rural transportation and freighting here still depend on that ubiquitous Jack-of-all-Middle East burdens—the donkey. On some days, these sturdy animals seem to outnumber cars in Bethlehem.

The ancient city itself is far from being a modern town, in the 20th century sense.

Some of its twisting, cobbled lanes and facing stone buildings cannot be too different from the scene that greeted the Holy Family on that first Christmas.

Christmas: no time for tragedy

By HENRY CANTIN

From home to home, from country to country, yule celebrations abound.

The happy traditions of gift giving, home decorating, carol singing, card sending, candle lighting and tree trimming express the merriment of the Christmas season.

The spirit of Christmas knows no boundaries. It lives in the hearts of men in many lands. And this is the way it should be.

But the joys and happiness of the Christmas holidays have ended in sadness for many each year by carelessness and our indulgence in the celebration of Christmas.

I am speaking of carelessness during home Christmas parties and especially behind the wheel of the family car.

The warning of "if you want to drink then don't drive" can't be repeated too often.

Traffic law enforcement authorities are quick to cite countless traffic reports that inattention, carelessness and driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquors.

I join with traffic law enforcers in a plea for prudent driving while traveling to see friends and relatives during the holiday season.

If one is unfit to drive his car then friends or family members should see to it that someone else drives him to his destination. It will make for a merrier and happier Christmas for those persons who do assist in this manner.

Disobedience to the basic fire prevention rules and regulations in the setting up the family Christmas tree and tree lights can result in serious injury or tragedy. It pays to be careful.

Speaking about the Christmas spirit and celebrations, we like to cite a few comments on yule greens that set the scene for Christmas festivity.

From the welcoming wreath on the door to the Christmas tree glowing with lights and surrounded by packages, from the cheery poinsettia plant on the mantel to the sprig of mistletoe with its promises of kisses and laughter, greens and plants have set the scene for holiday enjoyment. Many of the greens now used for Christmas decorations once adorned pagan rites and were credited by the ancients with certain mystical powers and virtues.

Today using greens has become holiday custom regardless of religious or symbolic significance.

May those who read the columns of this newspaper accept my deepest and sincerest wishes for a happy and merry Christmas.

Beirut: bright spot on edge of bedlam

By

Charles Bartlett

BEIRUT — Like an elegant little shorebird straining against the wind, Lebanon is riding out the prophecies that she would fall prey to the feverishness of her Palestinians.

Her feathers are a bit ruffled. Her economy has been hurt by the scarcity of tourists. Her stability has been repeatedly jostled by the guerillas and her grace in blending Moslems and Christians is tested daily.

But Beirut looks more prosperous, more stable and more western than the circumstances might suggest. She finds it rewarding to be a splinter of sanity on the edge of bedlam. Few highrise buildings, financed by oil princes, mushroom along the coast and the city lights reach higher and higher up the slopes of the Lebanon mountains.

The banks bulge with capital from less secure corners of Arabia and the stores glisten with goods from Paris. The corruption which strained Lebanese politics during the long dominance of Gen. Fuad Chehab is being sifted out by the new President, Suleiman Franjeh, who is fond of saying privately, "We are for the Arabs so long as they are for the West."

He is expressing what the Lebanese have learned from the long crisis. They know this role cannot be crowded by other roles and that is why popular support for the Palestinian commandoes is firmly hedged by official precautions.

The commandoes are still very much on the scene, controlling the refugee camps and asserting themselves intermittently in the south. But events in Jordan, the new rationality in Syria, and Damascus' tightened control over the Syrian guerillas have left them less room to maneuver and less chance to bully the Lebanese government.

So Lebanon's short term prospects, murky a few months ago, now seem quite solid. The long term prospects depend entirely, everyone is aware, on what happens in the region. The Lebanese are too sophisticated to be optimistic or pessimistic but they do perceive reasons why constructive steps may be possible.

First of all the mood throughout the Arab states is more sensible than it has been since June 1967, perhaps longer. Abdel Nasser's death has softened the stridency of the Arab movement and now the local demagogues, all former echoes of Nasser, find themselves with much less to say. The booming exhortations from Cairo no longer acerbate the scene.

The lull has caused the Arabs to think more pressingly of their own problems. All these states are really doing what Nasser had begun to do, which is to rearrange their priorities to reduce the preoccupation with Israel. The Arabs have as much as any group of people with the wind and the wind is now blowing in a more sober direction.

Partly this is a reaction to Washington's peace initiative so it will wither if the initiative fails. President Nixon's moves to secure the Israelis' confidence have naturally diminished his popularity with the Arabs. Some say he is now more detested than Lyndon Johnson and if the warfare resumes, the antipathy toward the United States may be more severe than ever.

The suspicion here is strong that Israel is playing with Mr. Nixon, squeezing him for commitments by raising hopes of concessions that will never be made. Many find it hard to see why Israel will ever be willing to give up her conquests, which add up after all to a neat package.

Is City of Romulus ready for new year?

To the editor:

With the coming of the end of 1970, we probably all look forward to the joyous tidings and celebrations of the season's festivities.

Yet, it is at this time of year that normally we all reflect back upon the old year to try to determine what occurred; what goals or aims were met and which were missed; and what should we do to improve in the forthcoming year that which we neglected.

With respect to the City of Romulus, to the city administrators and to Mayor Hyle Carmichael, several questions keep coming into my mind:

What has the new city status brought to Romulus? What campaign promises and pledges were given by the present administration and which of those were kept and which were forgotten?

Has the mayor of Romulus truly kept the best interests of the electorate and the people young and old in the forefront of his mind, or rather the importance of his own office and the political expediences that he might have felt obligated to make during this period of time?

The electorate of Romulus voting for cityhood in May 1970, and its charter, has seen that document by-passed and ignored on several occasions.

The electorate voted for a treasurer with the powers and authority as stipulated in the charter, and then the city administrators virtually stripped him of those authorities and powers by transferring those responsibilities over to a "financial director."

The mayor held back information from the people of the city that he loves and was born in, especially that of the future status of the Romulus Police Department with its final dispersement with a contract to the Wayne County Sheriff's office.

In this newspaper, the mayor of Romulus reported that the contract would be for a one-year term at a total cost of $33,000, with Mr. James Raspberry saying it would allow the city to have time to build its own police department that a city could be truly proud of.

Funny though, that the exact amount of money forecasted in the city budget for the police department as presented and passed in July of this year, was that same amount to be for the Wayne County Sheriff's Contract. To even go further, a Detroit afternoon newspaper had reported that the contract in question was for a five-year term, renewable every year at a cost of $348,000 per year, negotiable at renewal time.

Does anyone really know the true facts and figures besides the present administration? If the mayor of Romulus proposes this contract with the Wayne County Sheriff's office to gain time to build our own police department then where will the additional money come from? More taxes? More assessments? More curtailment of badly needed services?

If the figures reported in the Detroit paper are correct, then where will that additional $18,000 come from? Are we now planning to eliminate the Department of Water and Power as well?

Then we had the issue of William Oakley, holding two elected positions, a fact that the administration should have researched and resolved long before the election of May 1970.

Happily this was rectified with his resignation from the Romulus school board effective as of Jan. 1, 1971. Why had the administration been so silent for so long on such an important issue?

But what about 1971? What "State of the city Message" will our mayor give us, if he does at all. What are the aims, goals and achievements that desire to be attained, that need to be dwelled upon and resolved? What new problems are there that we the people of Romulus do not know of? What will the mayor do besides "ram" things down the electorate's throats, as he had told a group of citizens during a council meeting?

Should Romulus have a Charter Commission re-elected periodically as occurs in the city of Detroit? This may not seem a bad idea considering that it might provide a check system to any inefficiency that could be occurring presently in our present administration and its policies.

The New Year of 1971 is presently upon us, yet, is Romulus' administration ready for 1971 in planning, budgetary control, fiscal responsibility and city administration?

What's included in bond issue?

By ROBERT L. McCONEGHY, Superintendent of Romulus Schools

At its regular meeting on Monday, Dec. 14, the Board of Education held a preliminary discussion on what should be included in a proposed bond issue election to be held next spring.

As you recall, the board held an $11,000,000 bond issue election last spring and it was defeated by a vote of 1,410 no to 772 yes.

During the discussion it was assumed that the needs as expressed in the last election were still unsatisfied and would be contained in the new request. However, a new evaluation of needs was responsible for additional discussion and poses some vital questions which must be decided by the board prior to the new election.

One of the discussion items confronting the board concerned renovation and maintenance of Romulus, Hayti and Gordonier Elementary Schools. These schools presently provide housing for 1,000 kindergarten through sixth grade students.

An evaluation of these facilities indicates a need for more than normal maintenance to bring them up to the condition level of some of the district's newer buildings. This type of construction work results in higher cost than that of constructing new buildings.

However, it must be recognized that as long as these buildings are going to be used, they must be maintained and any major expenditure for their maintenance and renovation must come from bond issue funds.

Another item discussed was whether the board should include a swimming pool at the high school.

A swimming pool has been included in previous bond issues and the voters have consistently voted no. The high school, though, to be a complete high school, should have a swimming pool. It is interesting to note that the last time a swimming pool was included on the ballot, the estimated construction cost was between $400,000 to $500,000. Today it is estimated a new pool would cost $800,000. So, should it be included in the next bond issue?

The board will have to make that decision. It was the consensus that before the board makes a final determination regarding those projects to be included in the next bond issue that the public be involved through informative meetings.

CLASS HEARS EDUCATOR — Mulugeta Eteffa (left), an international educator from Ethiopia currently serving the 37 school districts of Wayne County Intermediate School Board, visited the fourth grade class at Beverly Elementary School recently. He was introduced to the class by teacher Mrs. Mildred Washington.

Ethiopian teacher pays visit

An international educator from Ethiopia visited and addressed fourth grade students at the Beverly Elementary School, 35408 Beverly Rd. last week.

The visitor was Mulugeta Eteffa, currently serving Wayne County's 37 school districts.

Eteffa, speaking to the class Dec. 15, told the students that his country is located in East Africa and has a varied climate with an average temperature of 68 degrees.

He reminded the youngsters that, if they wanted to visit the country, they should plan to come before the monsoon season, which begins in July and ends in September.

In his talk, he pointed out that Ethiopia is mostly a rural country with much of the traveling done by camel. He also showed several colorful slides of his country and other areas of Africa.

Teachers honored

Each Christmas for the past six years, the executive board of the Hayti Elementary School PTA has honored its teaching staff with a Christmas breakfast, paid for and prepared by the parent members of the board.

This year the tradition meal of scrambled eggs, bacon, sausage, hash browned potatoes, fruit cup, rolls and coffee was ready to serve at 6:15 a.m.

Many hours of preparation had gone into planning the meal, making centerpieces and Christmas corsages to give to teacher guests.

Just before the serving lines were formed, Mrs. Martha Morgan, kindergarten teacher, called for the group's attention.

She gave a short speech of appreciation for the annual event, stating that teachers looked forward to the Christmas season with the PTA.

Each teacher was presented with a double carnation corsage of red and white.

Health class visits home

Twenty-nine junior and senior students of the health occupation classes at Romulus High School visited and entertained patients at Woody's Rest Home, 39000 Chase Rd., Romulus, last Wednesday.

The students brought gifts, punch, cake and cookies for the patients. They sang Christmas carols with many of the patients joining in.

Mrs. Helen Key, home economics teacher, and Mrs. Lucile Combs, school nurse, accompanied the students.

Since the health occupation classes started at Romulus High School, several of the students have been employed at Woody's Rest Home.

"The greatest problem of the senior citizen is the lack of understanding of his full need," Mrs. Fate Woody, owner, said.

SANTA VISITS STUDENTS — Beverly Elementary School, Romulus, had a surprise visitor last week. The visitor was good old Santa Claus who informed the school's PTA that he wanted to see all the boys and girls at the school to make sure what they wanted for Christmas. Mrs. Otal McClendon of the school's staff made sure that Santa would meet the children. She arranged for all students to meet in the multi-purpose room at the school to greet the arrival of Santa. The happy and interesting expressions on the faces of the students made the PTA's-sponsored visit a worthwhile one.

WINS IN CONTEST — One of the three windows selected in a contest involving the painting of Christmas scenes at the Cory Elementary School was created by Dawn Cole, 10, and Cheryl Common, 10.

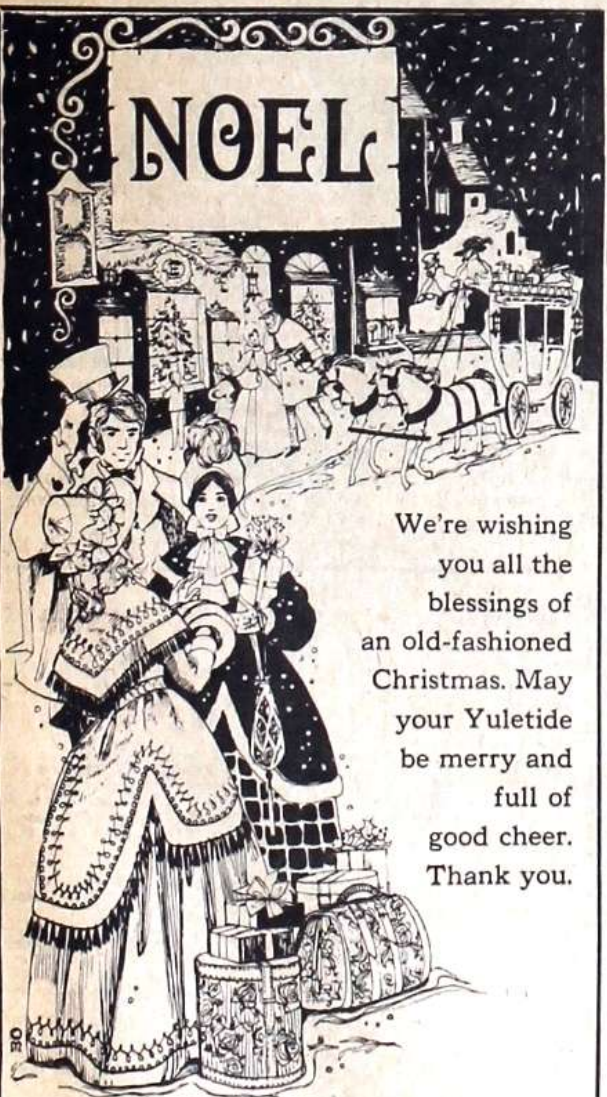

Beverly classes visit airport

Metropolitan Airport and its facilities were the highlights of a recent tour made by the first and second grade students at the Beverly Elementary School, 35408 Beverly Rd.

The students' tour included seeing movies and inspecting the inside of a BOAC jet airliner about to take off for London, England. They were accompanied by teachers Mrs. Annie Evans, Mrs. Edith Mattison and Miss Merry Babbewich.

Following a trip to the customs area, the youngsters had lunch at the tourist lunch room at the airport. Principal Terrel M. LeCesne, reported.

We're wishing you all the blessings of an old-fashioned Christmas. May your Yuletide be merry and full of good cheer. Thank you.

Dominican youths visit in Romulus

Three young men from the Dominican Republic are celebrating the Christmas season for the first time.

The opportunity to do so was made possible by Harold Kranick, 9 Peace Corps volunteer since January, who is spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kranick Sr., of 30790 Smith Rd., Romulus.

Kranick, who is assigned to the Dominican Republic, brought the three young men to the United States. They arrived at Metro Airport last Friday afternoon.

Seeing the United States for the first time and celebrating Christmas for the first time-it was reported that they do not celebrate Christmas in the Dominican Republic-are Carmelo Segura, 18; Angel Aybar, 17; and Fellin Celpedes, 15.

Shortly after their arrival at the airport, Kranick took his visitors to the Romulus City Hall where Kranick's sister, Mrs. Deana Lovenduski, is deputy city clerk, to see the operations of a United States Community.

While at City Hall, Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael talked with the young men, with Kranick acting as interpreter. The mayor presented the visitors with cup mementoes, commemorating the adoption of city status by the community of Romulus.

Among the first things the boys wanted to do was thank the Romulus Progressive Club for providing tennis shoes for a Boy Scout troop organized in their home town and Romulus citizens for their donations of used scout uniforms.

They all reported that they like United States. Angel hopes to live here.

Among the sights the trio saw for the first time included a United States Post Office, an escalator, snow, a washing machine and dryer, and various electricity uses for 24 hours a day.

In the Dominican Republic, they reported, electricity is available for only four hours a day.

Official attends

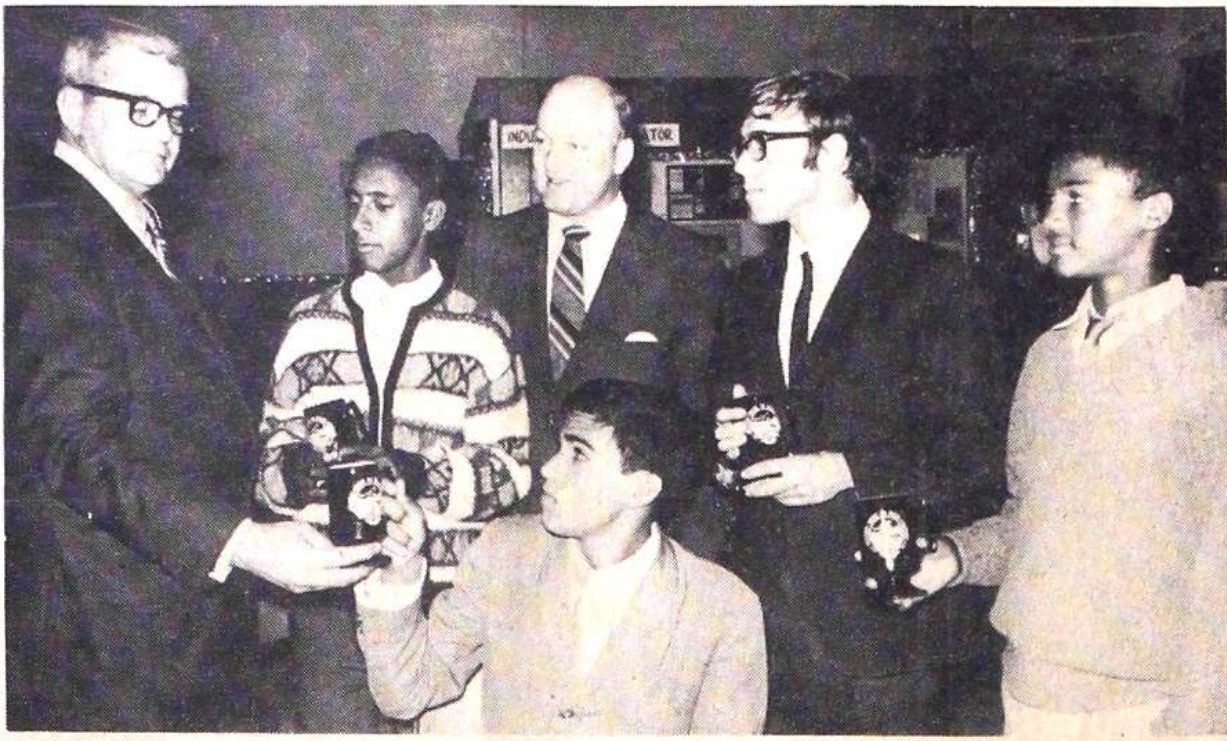

Mrs. Lorena Burton, 35753 Bibbins, Romulus, coordinator of state and federal programs for Romulus Community Schools, recently attended a seminar in Washington, D.C. to obtain the latest information on federal legislation affecting education.

The seminar was arranged by the Division of Field Services at Eastern Michigan University.

Representing school districts from across the State, 30 members of the Michigan Association of State and Federal Program Specialists will attend the seminar at the Hotel Congressional. They will be primarily concerned with provisions made in the federal budget for support of elementary and secondary school program.

Director of the seminar is Ralph Steffek, consultant for Field Services at Eastern.

It takes about 65 million pounds of tobacco to make enough chewing tobacco to meet the demands.

Needy families benefit

The National Honor Society at Romulus High School sponsored a successful food-clothing drive for needy families in Romulus.

The community-wide, house-to-house canvass for canned food, toys and clothing by all of the high school students resulted in a collection of more than 2,100 pounds of clothing, 250 cans of assorted foods and numerous toys.

As the canvass which started Dec. 9 progressed it developed into a contest between the high school's 15 home rooms.

The contest winners were the students of Mrs. Shirley Smith, speech room teacher. The prize was cash award of $30 paid out of the society's treasury.

The clothing, food and toys were turned over to the Romulus Action Center, located at 35351 Beverly Rd.

More than 50 needy families are expected to share in the students' contributions toward making a Merry Christmas for families who otherwise might be forgotten.

'Christmas Carol' presented

The sixth grade class at Haggerty Road Elementary School presented a version of Charles Dickens Christmas Carol last week for the entire school and they gave a special performance for their parents in the evening.

The students had spent several weeks in preparation for their performance. The group attended an afternoon showing of the musical, Scrooge in order to get ideas about costumes and how they should act. They designed and built their own scenery.

The part of Scrooge was played by Barry Henderson; Cratchit, by Richard Dapsi; Marley by Jim Vincent.

The Three Ghosts were Janice French, Cheryl Korman and Diane Arndt; Mrs. Cratchit was played by Jenny Koss and Tiny Tim by Craig Washburn.

The storyteller was Carol Smith and the play was directed by James Fitch.

Haggerty choir goes caroling

The Haggerty Road Elementary School sixth grade choir caroled at the Van Buren Convalescent Home, 44401 Expressway, last Thursday.

The audience was pleased with the performance of the choir under the direction of Mrs. Joy Powers, vocal music teacher.

The bids, which must be on file at the clerk's office by 5 p.m. Jan. 5, will be opened at the City Council meeting that night.

CHRISTMAS SCENES — The fourth, fifth and sixth grade students at Cory Elementary School, Romulus, have painted 25 windows and doors in their school. The project developed into a contest. One of the three windows selected by the contest judge is shown with students Debby Doak, 11; and danette Hamel, 10.

DISPLAYS CHRISTMAS PAINTING — Kathy Kalfayan, a student at the Cory Elementary School, stands before her painting of a Christmas scene, one of three that was selected by the contest judge. The project was one of getting the school ready for the yule season but later developed into a contest among the students.

Caroling to benefit Lions

A group of 15 or 20 boys and girls from Wayne, Westland and Romulus will be carolling through downtown Wayne, Wednesday afternoon, seeking contributions for the Wayne Lions Club.

The organizers of the project are Karen Jarrard, 10, and Susan Harper, 10, both students at Walker School. They will be carolling with three Sunday school classes from Calvary Baptist Church.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

Our Christmas prayers center on the celebration of the birth of the Prince of Peace. As we express affection to Him, we should realize we need His guidance more than ever. At long last, let us realize we need a united intelligence to accept and follow His guidance in the things we do and the things we think.

Let us realize no spot on earth can enjoy Peace on Earth as long as men fail to preserve peace in their hearts and minds. Let us realize that only with faith and hope can we unite as God's children; let us realize faith and hope will do away with the fears that divide us. At long last, let us realize hatred, fanaticism and extremism can terminate only in the desolation of the mind, body and spirit. Let us realize man's morality, decency and dignity must be genuine for there is no substitute. Above all, let us realize we are only temporary citizens of our time, but have permanent souls that last through eternity.

Don't you agree we should realize these things FROM New Year to Christmas; not merely FROM Christmas to New Year?...

Ford rips Nixon's job training bill veto

Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) strongly denounced President Nixon's veto last two weeks Ford as one of the major accomplishments of the current session of Congress.

A member of the Education and Labor Committee which drafted the bill, Ford helped steer it through the House, where it was approved Nov. 17. It was also passed by the Senate, in slightly different form, and Ford was named to a joint House-Senate Conference which ironed out the differences and sent it to the President.

The bill originally called for expenditure of $12 billion over a three-year period to help the nation solve its mounting unemployment crisis. Hoping to avert Nixon's veto, Ford and the other conferees cut $2.5 billion out of the bill in its final version.

A vital part of the legislation was a Public Service Employment Program to provide jobs in public service for unemployed persons unable to find work in private industry. It would have included jobs and training in such fields as health, public safety, park maintenance and conservation.

"With the national unemployment rate at 5.8 percent -- the highest in nearly a decade -- this legislation was absolutely imperative," Ford declared. "It was particularly important to Michigan, where the unemployment rate is nearly 10 percent.

"I am at a complete loss to understand the President's veto. The bill was the first major legislation in which we embodied the president's own oft-declared concept of federalism. Our bill would have provided state and local governments with Federal funds to develop and administer their own programs to meet local needs.

"It is incomprehensible to me," Ford asserted, "that the President would veto a bill which conforms to his own publicly expressed philosophy and which would have brought hundreds of thousands of unemployed Americans back into the job market.

"This is a fine Christmas present, indeed, for those millions of Americans who are vainly seeking employment, and who have looked to their Federal Government for help. The President's action ranks with his earlier vetoes of money for education and health programs as shocking examples of complete insensitivity to the basic needs of the American people."

Ford added that the veto again demonstrated the administration's "lopsided sense of priorities."

"President Nixon surely does not speak for the majority of Americans when he rejects programs to improve education, build hospitals and provide jobs, and then shows such concern for financially stricken railroads and defense manufacturers and insists on outlandish subsidies for corporate farmers and supersonic airplane manufacturers.

"Mr. Nixon sarcastically referred to our public-service employment program as a plan to create WPA-type jobs. The WPA program was created to find work for millions of Americans who found themselves unemployed in the Republican Depression of the early 1930s. I am sure the WPA concept had its faults and shortcomings, but I am just as sure that it enabled many Americans to salvage their dignity and feed their families during a time when Republican policies had brought the nation's economy to a catastrophic halt."

Ford said he would support attempts to seek an override of the president's veto, but expressed little hope for success during the hectic final days of the current session.

"This legislation was our last chance in this session to help bring the nation out of the unemployment spiral that has climbed so drastically in the Nixon Recession," Ford said. "But I want the President and the Nation to know that we will continue our efforts in the months ahead."

The bill originally called for expenditure of $12 billion over a three-year period to help the nation solve its mounting unemployment crisis. Hoping to avert Nixon's veto, Ford and the other conferees cut $2.5 billion out of the bill in its final version.

WCCC gets $622,000 emergency transfer

The State Administrative Board approved last week an emergency transfer of some $622,000 to "buy time" for financially ailing Wayne County Community College.

The transfer, recommended by Gov. William G. Milliken, is intended to resolve a cash flow problem based on a sudden spurt of the college's flow enrollment and on the defeat of a one-mill property tax to raise operating revenues.

Through the board's action, $540,940 of the transferred funds will come out of funds previously appropriated for nearby Highland Park Community College.

State Budget Director Glenn S. Allen said Highland Park "will not be hurt" by the bookkeeping maneuver.

He estimated the transfer would keep Wayne County Community College going through January and possibly February.

A spokesman from the college said that the money would be used "every place. It will go into the school's general funds to keep us going."

He explained that the funds are actually an advance on money the state would have given the school near the end of the second semester because of the sudden increase in the number of students enrolled.

The spokesman elaborated further that the money is a prorated amount and not a part of the $1.35 million allocated by the state for the college's operation costs.

Although budget director Allen predicts that the money will keep the college going through January and possibly February, the spokesman for the college said it could be made to last until March when another allotment is expected.

"We aren't going to run out of money," he said, clarifying his statement by explaining that WCCC would stretch it thin as need be to keep running.

"Nobody is seriously contemplating closing the school," he said. "We just won't open new centers or start new programs yet."

WCCC, with a fulltime enrollment of some 7,400 students and more than 6,000 part time, has no campus, partly because of repeated millage defeats in the Detroit area.

It operates from high schools, churches and facilities made available by nearby community colleges.

Allen said final settlement of the college's crisis remains to be resolved by the legislature, which last summer wrote a condition into its appropriations to shut off half if a millage supplement failed.

The assumption was that the millage would be passed Allen said.

The House, before adjourning for the year two weeks ago, approved emergency legislation to rescind the penalty clause.

The measure died in the Senate, however, when budget watchers argued that passage would set a precedent for other two-year colleges which might face similar problems.

Driver caution urged

Romulus Chief of Police Jacob J. Koch Monday warned motorists that the holiday season puts us face to face with the nation's No. 1 traffic problem — alcohol and driving.

"Traditional parties, drinking and winter weather are already pushing our accident curve upward," Chief Koch commented. He was emphatic about countermeasures his department is taking.

"We're out with all the manpower we can muster to protect everyone from the dangerous thinking that anyone can overindulge and then slide behind the wheel of a car."

"Research information circulated by the International Association of Chiefs of Police indicates that alcohol is a factor in as many as half of our traffic accidents," he said. And he quoted from "The Driver's Guide to Drinking," published by the National Safety Council:

"The occasions for drinking are endless. So are the chances for accidents on the highway. You can help solve the No. 1 highway problem if you:

- Understand alcohol and what it does.
- Understand what alcohol does to you.
- Know your limitations and stay within them.
- Contrary to popular belief, alcohol is a depressant, not a stimulant," Chief Koch pointed out.

The NSC report supports this view of the effects of alcohol:

"Alcohol slows reflexes, impairs coordination, reduces visual acuity. It dulls normal caution. Concentration becomes difficult. You can't think as clearly, as quickly or as rationally as you usually do. And you can't act as fast."

Put a person in this condition behind the wheel of a car, add winter's poor visibility, inadequate traction, and you multiply beyond all reason the chances of a tragic crash, Chief Koch pointed out.

How much a person can drink varies, according to experts. Alcohol build-up in the blood depends on: (1) the amount of alcohol (number and strength of drinks); (2) time elapsed since drinking began; (3) body weight; and (4) quantity and kind of food in the stomach.

So if you should overdo, it would be well to heed the chief's advice:

"Black coffee, cold showers, fresh air or other folklore remedies won't help. Time is the only answer — time for your body to dispose of the alcohol."

"And after several drinks, that time may be several hours before it's safe to drive again."

Airline to add building

A building permit for the construction of a one-story steel and metal commercial addition to the American Airlines facilities at Detroit Metro Airport has been issued by Romulus Building Department.

The permit was requested by Pulte Construction Co., Inc., of Troy. The firm is to construct the new $150,000 structure, Joseph B. Gallagher, manager of the city's building department, reported.

Fees collected by the city on the building permit amounted to $600.

Daylight Saving Time is not new. Benjamin Franklin wrote about it in 1784 but few took him seriously.

'Song of Norway' is lush, romantic biography

ABC Pictures presents an Andrew and Virginia Stone Production distributed by Cinema Releasing Corp., "Song of Norway." Screen story and screenplay by Andrew L. Stone, from the musical by Melvin Lazarus and the play by Homer Curran, music by Edvard Grieg. Lyrics and musical adaptation by Robert Wright and George Forrest.

choreography by Lee Theodore, music by the London Symphony Orchestra under Roland Shaw, directed by Stone. Super Panavision, De Luxe color. Rated G. At the Americana on a reserved seat showing with the following cast: Toralv Maustad, Florence Henderson, Christina Schollin, Frank Porretta, Oscar Homolka, Robert Morley, Edward G. Robinson, Harry Secombe.

By HOWARD ALLEN
Daily Eagle Movie Critic

Anyone who complains that they're not making movies the way they used to hasn't seen "Song of Norway" now on a road show run at the Americana. "Song of Norway" is precisely the way they used to make movies, the lush, romantic and sentimental film biographies of the classical composers and their blazing loves, set amidst a background so determinedly scenic as to shame an old Fitzpatrick travelogue.

More important to the state of movie musicals today, "Song of Norway," like "Scrooge" is an inexpensive movie. Yet both were as visually rewarding as the excessively opulent "Paint Your Wagon" and other such financial nightmares which stood little chance of recouping their expenses and, it was being said a few months ago, stood to doom the movie musical. Both "Scrooge" and "Norway" are doing well at the box office and will turn in a profit, which is just the magic word to revive musicals.

In this case, producer, director and screen author Andrew Stone took his tourists on an extended Scandinavian visit, shooting all that beautiful, picturesque, rugged-and-free scenery, then fitting a story to it only slightly suggestive of the story line from the 1940 musical play which reworks the music of Grieg into contemporary songs.

The familiar and stirring "A Minor Concerto" is the overture and the basis for adapted songs, as are "In the Hall of the Mountain King" from "Peer Gynt," "I Love You," "Norwegian Dance No. 2," and several others. At least one transformed song, "Strange Music," far outstrips its ancestor, the Nocturn and Wedding Day from "Trollhaugen."

Amidst the treats for eye and ear, it is almost cruel to mention the plot, but it's unimportant enough, except for length, so as not to deter anyone from a pleasurable evening. It contains such dialect as, "All my money brought was heartaches for everyone," a representative sample.

Toralv Maustad, whose voice nowhere matches that of costars Florence Henderson, Ultimately, Grieg goes to Rome, where Franz Liszt and Henrik Ibsen succor him, only to let ambition keep him from fulfilling a promise to visit Poretta, a fellow composer and Grieg's best friend, dying of tuberculosis. At the tearful ending, Grieg, learning of his friend's death, says he will devote his life to making his friend's dream of a truly Norwegian music come true.

Despite this, and a host of frivolous trivialities such as how Grieg is to spirit Miss Henderson away from her mother in the midst of a music lesson, "Song of Norway" is more than worthwhile for its beauty of scene and song.

OOH, Si ... eet's a party! IF you're staying home for the Holidays ... take Pico's Tacos (and Empanadas) with you! Margie Gertz eats 'em. Kathy eats 'em. Now, don't all write at once! Just meet us in Dearborn Heights ... and start the New Year with a Tostada ... and we'll figger out a better way together.

YOU SAY I NEVER TOLDJA about my poor Cousin Jack, the Missionary? Oh yes, poor soul Eaten by Cannibals, he was. Gave 'em their first taste of religion! How many times I said to the man, "Jack, boy, tell 'em about Gabrielle. Tell 'em how those steaks are prepared in a special sauce and how the cheese melts down into the Sandwich. Tell 'em how five girls at a time stand there with their arms moving as fast as they can, just keeping the Sandwiches comin' across the counter! Tell 'em about the hot pepper sauce and the things that have filled the place to the rafters every Tuesday thru Saturday from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Tell 'em that even if the WHOLE TRIBE gets together for a New Years blast, Gabrielle can satisfy 'em all. Send 'em to 2585 E. Michigan, just past Wayne. Or have 'em call HU 3-5847. Well, poor soul, he'll be starting the New Year in a far better place. I'll do almost as good myself. Because Gabrielle's Steak Sandwiches are the next best thing to Heaven, for sure. So if I never toldja about my poor Cousin Jack ... don't say I never toldja about Gabrielle's!!

Two of the students, George Sedlacek and Sharon Zilka, were absent due to illness. The evening program was dedicated to the memory of Miss Morris' mother, the late Flora Morris, who never tired of hearing youngsters play or practice.

Yearly awards were presented to Carla Hay, most perfect lessons throughout the year among students 12 years and above; and Debbie Zilka, most perfect lessons among those less than 12 years.

Memorizing: Anne Szyndlar, Carla Hay, more than 12 years; Gayle Treder and Mary Renke, less than 12 years.

Perfect Attendance: April Forentos, Bridet Forentos; Bobby Pichan, Mary Rhodes, Sid Rhodes, Mary Renke, Jessica Simonson, Anne Szyndlar, Audrey Szyndlar, Debbie Wahrman and Debbie Zilka.

A couple of hours of relaxation was enjoyed by the young folks following the program. They played games appropriate to the occasion, for which prizes were given, exchanged gifts, and were served lunch buffet style. The evening closed as the students gathered around their teacher at the piano for a round of Christmas carol singing.

Relatives of Miss Morris assisted with the games and lunch.

The momentum of a last second shot at Wayne that assured Belleville of its first basketball victory last week carried over Friday night as Coach Allen Gates' Tigers played their best over-all game of the current campaign in whipping Redford Union for their initial Suburban Six Conference win, 78-73.

With Garrade Pettus, Eddie Branam and Mike Garland on target in the first quarter.

Belleville shot to a 26-15 lead and stayed in front the rest of the way despite a last quarter R.U. rally.

"Our defense really did the job," said Coach Gates whose team presently is at the .500 level with two wins and two losses. "I think our team has come a long way and I definitely feel they have jelled."

Outinfront 48-35 at the half with the hero of the Wayne game, Bob Lytle and Branam supplying their team with six and five points respectively, Belleville held a comfortable 68-47 edge at the three quarter mark.

It was too comfortable, apparently, as Redford Union threw a 1-3-1 full court press with their taller quintet and rallied back to close the gap to five points - the closest they got to tying it up after the initial quarter.

Coach Gates also tried injured Marty Miller and after the regular hit on a pair of baskets, he again headed for the bench reinjuring his ankle.

Miller has been sidelined since the Ypsilanti game when he scored 13 points before twisting his ankle.

Belleville was "hot" from the field where it capitalized on 33 of 50 shots but was "cold" at the free throw line where the Tigers made but 12 of 27 chances.

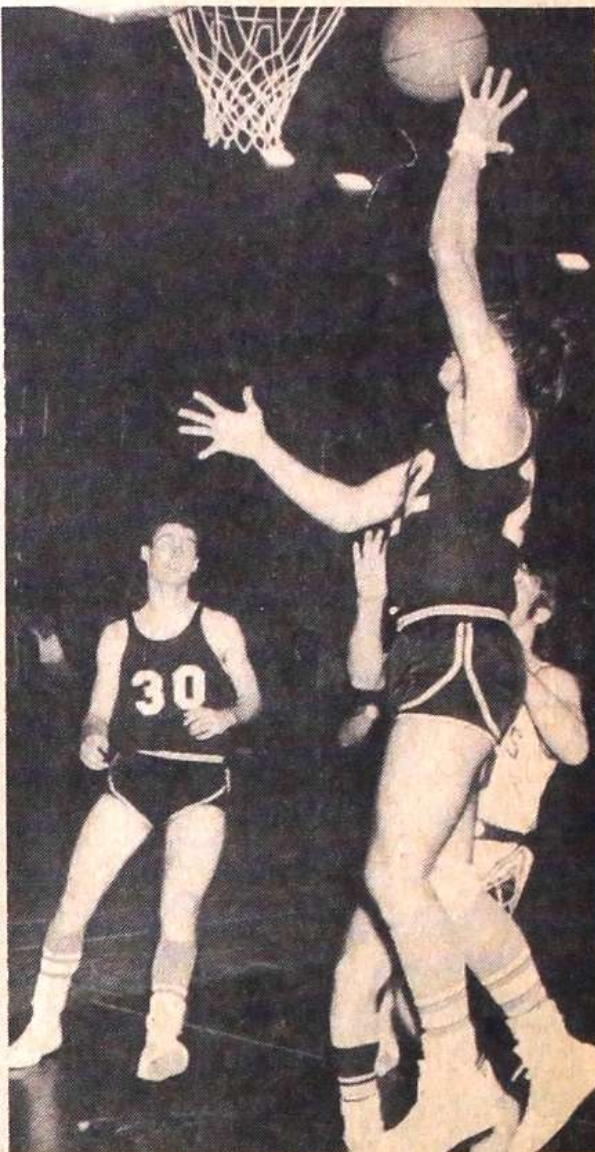

Pettus, who hauled down 11 rebounds, also drilled in 22 points for his team's scoring honors. He was supported by a balanced scoring attack with Garland getting 19, Branam, 15, and Lytle, 13.

The game's individual scoring honors went to 6-7 Mark Kennedy who poured in 10 baskets and seven free throws for 27. Dean Naudi and Bob Schaner were also in double figures with 17 and 15 points, respectively.

A LAST second desperation shot by Lytle rattled the nets to give Belleville its first nonleague victory of the 1970 campaign last Tuesday. Lytle, who held "hot hands" all evening, drilled in 25 points to

EASY TWO-POINTER-Belleville's Bob Lytle (22) goes up for an easy layup in last Tuesday's nonleague conflict with Wayne Memorial. However, Lytle's final two-pointer wasn't as easy — it came from midcourt with one second left which gave Coach Allen Gates and the Tigers their first win of the season, 74-73. There'll be little rest for the Tigers this week as they will compete in the Christmas Basketball Tournament to be conducted at Wayne High beginning today. Belleville drew Cherry Hill in the first round at 8:45 p.m.

APPLYING PRESSURE - Trying to maneuver into position for a "steal" is Belleville's prolific scorer, Garrade Pettus (dark jersey). Wayne's Rich Fidd (with ball) flipped the ball over to Chuck Slamer to get out of trouble momentarily. But there was trouble for Wayne in the form of Bob Lytle's desperation shot from midcourt which swished the nets for the decisive basket at the last second of the game.

Belleville seeks holiday tourney title

With the ice broken, Belleville and Coach Allen Gates will get a chance to prove "that they are for real" tonight when they take on Cherry Hill in the first round of the Christmas Tournaments at Wayne Memorial High School.

Belleville, loser to Ypsilanti and Plymouth in their first two starts, has rebounded to nip Wayne and Redford to take a 2-2 record into the basketball tournament which will be staged three days - Dec. 23, 26 and 29. The Tigers have an ailing defending champ, Cherry Hill to contend with at 8:40 p.m. In the preliminary game at 7 p.m., Plymouth will meet the host, Wayne.

With graduation wiping out all five regulars, Cherry Hill, defending Christmas Basketball Tournament champs, will need little more than a miracle to hold on to the title which will be up for grabs starting Wednesday, Dec. 23.

Missing from Coach Joe LaScola's lineup are such notables as 6-7 center, Jim Kroll, Pat Burke, Keith Cabanaw and Ron Pelligrino who were the nucleus of a team that won the school's first basketball trophy.

"It's going to be rough," said Coach LaScola. "But it's also Christmas, isn't it? And anything can happen. Don't you believe in miracles?"

Six teams, including the defending champ, and Plymouth, Wayne Memorial, Belleville, John Glenn and Livonia Churchill will take part in the three-day tournament.

Romulus matmen yield to Wayne

When you're the last man in a wrestling lineup, you can expect all eyes to be focused on you if the meet is close. And fans were watching the outcome of the heavyweight match between Romulus' Tom Nault and Wayne's Tim Griffin for the bout eventually decided the outcome of the nonleague contest.

Nault, who saved the Eagles from disaster the previous meet, found the veteran Griffin too much for him and yielded in 1:38 which gave the Zebras a 27-19 victory over their hosts.

It was Romulus' first dual wrestling meet setback of the season, bringing Coach Jim Stallings' team record to an even 1-1-1 over-all mark.

"The meet could have gone either way," pointed out Coach Stallings. "We would win one match and they would come right back to win the next, and that's the way it went till the end.

"It's a tough one to lose, but

'Heavyweights' win for Belleville

Taking 18 out of a possible 20 points in the final four weight classes grapplers were able to overcome a 21-9 deficit to beat nonleague rival, Dearborn Heights Crestwood, on the mats, 27-21 last week.

Terry Krajewski ignited Coach Tom Fritz' team as he worked his way to a pin over Dale Piatik in the 155-pound class to close the gap to 21-14. Then All-Area griddler Mark Pellicchia toppled Crestwood's Don Loose to the mats in the 167-pound bout in 3:35 for the second consecutive five pointer.

When Crestwood failed to send a grappler up against Jerry Lucas, the Tigers were awarded another five points in the 185, while heavyweight Keith Simons turned back a stubborn Doug Webber to give Belleville its final three points.

The victory was Belleville and Coach Fritz' second in three outings. The Tigers will begin Suburban Six Conference competition after the New Year when they will meet Livonia Bentley at Bentley on Jan. 4.

The results of the meet are as follows: Belleville 27, Crestwood 21.

98-pounds: Horton (B) dec. Regan, 2-0.
105-pounds: Belleville forfeited.
112-pounds: Paperelli (C) pinned Garcia, 3:20.

I must commend these boys for a fine performance," he added.

Romulus will practice up on the mats until after the New Year when the Eagles return to face an always tough Garden City East squad in another nonleague contest.

The meet is scheduled for Thurs., Jan. 7 at Romulus.

The final results of the meet: Wayne Memorial 27, Romulus 19.

A good man in the wrong coaching job

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Naw, I'm not trying to take over Harry Hidenfelter's job as athletic director at Belleville High School. I have enough problems trying to put out the sports section of this newspaper.

And last week when I somehow slipped the name of Tom Fritz as the head swimming coach at Belleville, I soon learned, to my dismay, that I had the right school but the wrong man for the job.

Fritz, of course, is the Tiger wrestling coach. Let's leave him there.

And the right man for the swimming job is Sam Vicchy who, incidentally, is undefeated as a Tiger coach.

Sorry about that Sam - you know some of these reporters just can't keep away from the bottle; the milk bottle, that is.

It's tragic that the students who should read this column won't because they're too busy stirring up trouble. Ironically, this column will be read by those students who never are in trouble, try to help one another and enjoy things like going to basketball games and school events but are being deprived because of "troublemakers".

We don't know what happened last Tuesday after the Robichaud High School and Detroit MacKenzie basketball game. But we do care! Student melees have preceded us and will follow us. Troublemakers always are eager for fights and, in this respect, times haven't changed.

Some of us remember our high school days and the athletic events that we took part in. We also know that in some cases these games ended not with the final score, but in some nearby parking lot where the score was settled usually in a fist fight.

But we never deprived those who wanted to see an event by our actions.

We settled scores among ourselves and let the innocent go their way.

This evidently is not the case nowadays. The innocent are dragged in, too.

There are rumblings in area high schools that if not silenced soon will have an effect upon the entire high school athletic program.

Because of the "unrest", "tensions" - call them what you may - at Robichaud High School, many parents refuse to let their children attend athletic events at the school "because of a fear that something may happen after the game."

I am not singling out Robichaud - student melees have occurred in this area at other schools, in Detroit, out-state and in other states; it appears to be a sign of our times.

Students better realize soon that if such fights exist, whether it

Coach Hotvedt whose team is now 2-2 in the league. "It's understandable because we had to shuffle the lineup when Gorham was sidelined."

At Riverview, again without their versatile guard, Huron dropped a 68-51 nonleague contest to the Pirates whose balanced attack was too much for the Chiefs.

Sports meridian

be their fault-or the fault of some dropout (and that's usually the case)-the school administration will take steps to curb such incidents.

The administration stepped in Friday at Robichaud. The game was played in the afternoon instead of its original time at 6:30 p.m. There were no fans from East High School and only a sparse group from the host school. I counted three uniform police officers, one juvenile officer and a detective in the crowd. Playing a high school - or any athletic event - under these conditions is ridiculous.

The atmosphere was volatile.

And I had to pity the players who, undoubtedly, sensed all this. Again, we must give credit to these boys who went out there and performed to the best of their ability.

There were no problems during or after the game, because the problem-makers weren't there. They apparently show up during the night, do their dirty work and then disappear only to reappear at the next event.

I saw one girl sitting with her mother. And I could just see this girl saying, "Mother, I want to the game," and the mother replying, "if you go, then I'm going to come along."

That's how fearful parents have become these days.

You can't blame the girl for wanting to take part in school activities and you can't blame the mother for wanting to protect her daughter.

We're wondering where it will all end?

Maybe in the dissolution of the Mid-Wayne Conference? just as the once powerful Twin Valley is headed after this season? Maybe school administrators should consider afternoon basketball, they're doing it in Detroit, aren't they?

Or, maybe, high school athletics should be dissolved completely.

Whatever the case, something must be done - and soon.

Though Huron kept the game close thanks to the scoring acuity of Suemnick and Dreganskv who collected 19 and 18 points, respectively, they never got the lead away after trailing 12-9 in the first quarter.

Riverview outscored the visitors 17-12 in the second quarter to maintain a 29-21 edge while the two foes played on equal terms after the half (19-all) and the Pirates up to a 20-11 margin in the finale.

Huron, which has hosted an annual holiday tournament, has cancelled this year's because "of a lack of interest between the participating high schools," said Coach Hotvedt. "I'm happy about that because it will give our boys a chance to recuperate from their ills," he said.

The Chiefs will resume league action on Jan. 5 when they'll host Airport.

and Peggs squelched the uprising.

Harris' 30 points - a personal high for him in an Eagle uniform - was also the game's high. Teammates Davis, who fought off the flu to make it into the lineup, sank five baskets and a free throw for 11 points. He also was instrumental on the boards as he snared 17. Also in two figures was Peggs, with 18 while Ron Kersey had 10.

Richards, a 6-7 center, drilled in 11 baskets and a free throw for 23 points - his team's best scoring performance. Moor counted 18 points on eight baskets and two free throws. At the line the Cosmos was good for 15 out of 24 shots.

Romulus capitalized upon 10 of 20 charities and hit on 33 of its 62 shots from the field for about 52 percent.

Romulus will head into the New Year on top of the league standings, sharing the berth with defending champ, River Rouge, which pulled out a close victory over Willow Run on Friday.

The Eagles are presently standing on a 2-2 over-all record.

Up by five at the end of the half (40-35) Belleville fell behind in the third quarter as Wayne's Rich Fidh sank four baskets and a free throw to spark the Zebras to a 57-54 advantage.

Lytle again carried the Tigers in the closing quarter.

He was perfect at the free throw line with four for four, hit on two baskets, one in the last second, from mid-court after the Zebras handed the ball over on a turnover.

Belleville swimmers remain undefeated

Stones usually sink in water, but not the one Belleville rookie Coach Sam Vichy has on his team. This stone is Tim Stone, the anchorman for the 400-yard freestyle relay team.

And Stone's performance in the freestyle relays last week brought superlative from the first year coach who saw his team win two close meets to keep their dual meet records untarnished.

In a 54-51 Suburban Six Conference victory, Stone came from behind to give the Tigers a first place in the 400-yard freestyle relay and the needed points to shift the decision into Belleville's victory column, snatching it away from Redford Union, produce the winning time of 3:43.9.

Earlier in the week, Stone's performance as anchorman in the final relay helped Belleville to a 55-50 nonleague victory over Ypsilanti High School.

For the foursome, Coach Vichy also used Prill, Jeff Fry and Owens who carded the pivotal win.

Belleville has presently compiled a 5-0 dual meet record and is also presently undefeated in the conference where the Tigers are 2-0, but the crucial test lies ahead for them immediately after the New Year.

Then they'll face Livonia Bentley, one of the teams picked to replace the defending champ, Allen Park as the next swim king.

In the Redford Union meet, Brad Susterka emerged as the lone double winner as he posted a school record when he touched in at 1:02.5 for the 100-yard backstroke event. Earlier in the meet, he won the 200-yard individual medley with a 2:15.1.

Along with the 400-yard relay, Belleville also won the opening relay with Scott Stone, Jim Ackron, Jeff Fry and Dan Prill who posted a 1:52.3 effort.

Ackron was also an individual winner when he stroked a 1:09.0 for the 100-yard breaststroke, which set a school record for the event.

Meet results:

Belleville 54, Redford Union 51

AGREEMENT — LAW ENFORCEMENT SERVICES

THIS AGREEMENT, made and entered into this day of 19..... by and between the COUNTY OF WAYNE, hereinafter referred to as the "County" and the City of Romulus hereinafter referred to as the "City".

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, the City is desirous of contracting with the County for the performance of the hereinafter described law enforcement services for the City by the County of Wayne through the Sheriff thereof; and

WHEREAS, THE County of Wayne is agreeable to rendering such services on the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth; and

NOW THEREFORE, it is agreed as follows:

1.1 The County agrees, through the Sheriff of the County of Wayne, to provide police services within the corporate limits of the City to the extent and in the manner hereinafter set forth.

1.2 Except as otherwise hereinafter specifically set forth, such services shall only encompass duties and functions of the type coming within the jurisdictions of and customarily rendered by the Sheriff of the County of Wayne under the constitution and laws of this State.

1.3 Except as otherwise provided, the minimum level of service provided by the Sheriff will be as described in subparagraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), and (e) of this section (1.3.).

1.3(a) The Sheriff is to plan, establish, direct and control policies and programs designed to provide for the prevention of crime, enforcement of laws, apprehension of offenders, protection of life and property, preservation of peace, regulation of non-criminal conduct, and the provision of aid, relief and information to all citizens.

1.3(b) The Sheriff is to provide for answering called-for services; patrol and observation; preliminary investigation of crimes and accidents; investigation of commercial, recreational, and residential establishments, and investigation of nuisances, obstructions, signal and street lights, and fires; control of public gatherings; enforcement of marine laws; serving of civil processes; testifying in court; preparing reports, police and traffic records; and performing special nonpolice tasks, such as, participating in parades, motor escorts, and athletic events.

1.3(c) The Sheriff is to provide for preliminary and continuing investigatory services involving homicide, burglary, robbery, larceny and auto thefts; recovery of property; arrest of offenders; preparation of court cases; testifying in court; inspection of high crime rate areas; and performing specialized investigations involving suppression of major vice and corruption, gambling, narcotic traffic, sale and manufacturing of illegal whiskey, and liquor violations. Supportive services include searching for and apprehending violators; interviewing victims and witnesses; maintaining specialized files on known offenders; maintaining close surveillance of known crime areas and individuals; conducting raids and performing undercover work; and serving criminal warrants.

1.3(d) The Sheriff is to provide for the investigation of cases relating to delinquency of juveniles, inspection and patrol of locations and enterprises affording opportunity for delinquent acts, supervision of juvenile offenders, and coordination of community agencies involved in juvenile work.

1.3(e) The Sheriff is to provide for the operation of a police radio communication system involving the broadcast and reception of police calls, the dispatching of patrol cars, the service and repair of radios and radio equipment, and the preparation and maintenance of radio logs, index vehicle files, and communication records.

1.4 The City may from time to time, upon giving of not less than 30 days written notice to the Sheriff, vary the level of service provided so long as at all times the same equals or exceeds the minimum level referred to in the preceding paragraph.

2.1 The rendition of such service, the standards of performance, the discipline of officers and other matters incident to the performance of such services and the control of personnel so employed, shall remain with the County except as otherwise herein provided. In the event of dispute between the parties with respect to the interpretation of the provisions of this contract concerning the extent of the duties and functions to be rendered hereunder, or the minimum level or manner of performance of such service, binding resolution shall be made by the Sheriff.

2.2 Such services shall include the enforcement of penal statutes, and penal ordinances of the City.

2.3 Service performed hereunder may include, if requested by the City, additional traffic enforcement, license inspection and enforcement, the supplying of crossing guards and school safety officers and any other services in the field of public safety, law, or traffic enforcement, or related fields within the legal power of the Sheriff to provide.

2.3 (a) If the City desires to receive the services enumerated in paragraph 2.3, the Mayor of the City shall so notify the Sheriff.

3.1 For the purpose of performing its obligations hereunder, the County shall furnish and supply all necessary labor, supervision, equipment, communication facilities, and supplies necessary to maintain the level of service to be rendered hereunder.

3.2 The level of the several types of service herein contracted for shall not be reduced below the minimums described in this contract, except that in case of emergency such services may be diverted by the sheriff at the direction of the City to the supplying of emergency assistance to a municipality with which the City may be a participant in a mutual assistance agreement under Act. No. — 236 — P.A. 1967.

3.5 When and if the parties hereto concur as to the necessity of maintaining a law enforcement headquarters within said city, said City shall furnish at its own cost and expense all necessary office space, furniture and furnishings, office supplies, janitor service, telephone, light, water, and other utilities. It is expressly further understood that in event such local office is maintained in said City, such quarters may be used by the Sheriff of the County of Wayne in co-relation with the performance of the Sheriff's duties in territory outside of said City and adjacent thereto: Provided, however, that the performance of such outside duties shall not be at any additional cost to said City.

3.4 Notwithstanding anything herein contained, it is agreed that in all instances where special supplies, stationery, notices, forms, and the like, are to be issued, in or bear the name of said City, they shall be supplied by said City at its own cost and expense.

4.1 All persons employed in the performance of such services and functions pursuant to this agreement for said City shall be County employees, and no person employed hereunder shall acquire any City pension, civil service, status or rights by reason of such employment by the County.

4.2 For the purpose of performing services and functions under, relating to and within the scope of this agreement, and only for the purpose of giving official status to the performance thereof, every County officer and employee engaged in performing any such service and function may be deemed to be an officer or employee of said City while so performing.

5.1 The City shall not be liable for the direct payment of any salaries, wages, or other compensation and shall not incur liability other than that provided for in this agreement.

5.2 The City shall not be liable for compensation or indemnity to any County employee for injury or sickness arising out of his employment.

5.3 The County, its officers and employees, shall not be liable for intentional or negligent acts or omissions of said City or of any officer or employee thereof, and the County shall hold the City harmless including the costs of defense of litigation from intentional or negligent acts or omissions of County officers and employees, while functioning hereunder. For the purpose of this paragraph, the provisions of paragraph 4.2 hereof shall not apply.

6.1 Unless sooner terminated as provided for herein, this agreement shall be effective immediately and shall run for a period of five years thereafter. At the option of the City, with the concurrence with the County Board of Commissioners, this agreement may be renewed for successive periods of not to exceed five years each. In the event City desires to renew this agreement for any succeeding five-year period, the City Council, not later than April 30th of the year preceding the expiration date of this agreement, shall notify the Sheriff of its intention, whereupon said Sheriff, not later than the following June 30th, shall, in the event of concurrence by the Board of Commissioners notify said City Council of its acceptance of such renewal for an additional five-year period of such other term as mutually agreed upon. Otherwise, such agreement shall finally terminate at the end of the five-year period then current.

6.2 Notwithstanding the provisions of the foregoing, the City may terminate this agreement upon notice, in writing, to the County of not less than six (6) calendar months or the County may terminate this agreement upon notice in writing to the City of not less than twelve (12) calendar months.

6.3 Notwithstanding any provision herein to the contrary, the City may terminate this agreement upon notice, in writing, to the County given within sixty (60) days of receipt of written notice by the County of an increase in the basic law enforcement service rate then in effect, and in such an event this agreement shall terminate sixty (60) calendar days from the date of the City's notice to the County aforementioned.

7.1 Basic law enforcement service will be provided by County on the basis of a patrol car on a around-the-clock service seven days a week with two 8-hour shifts of two men each and one 8-hour shift of one officer, the latter on the day shift.

7.2 The County, acting through the Sheriff, shall employ all employees of the City who currently perform for the City the functions being transferred to the Sheriff in capacities similar to those now held by them with the City, together with all seniority rights, benefits, sick leave, vacation, insurance wages, hours, working conditions, and pension and retirement benefits currently provided by the City for such employees or such greater seniority rights, benefits, sick leave, vacation, insurance, wages hours, working conditions, and pension and retirement benefits as shall be provided from time to time by the County of Wayne. The County shall forthwith deliver to each such employee a description of the classification in which he may so be employed by the County and a description of the seniority rights, benefits, sick leave, vacation, insurance, wages, hours, working conditions, and pension and retirement benefits applicable to such classification. Each such employee who shall desire to accept such employment shall notify the County within two weeks after delivery to such employee of the items above described.

7.3 The Sheriff shall supply the same officer personnel to serve the City under this contract, on a continual basis, so far as is practical. Should any sheriff's officer be objectionable to the City, the Sheriff will honor the City's request to replace him.

8.1 The City will pay for basic law enforcement service at the rates as set forth in Schedule A as attached hereto, which rates shall be applicable to all items of cost and expense to the County over and above the maintenance of services or facilities normally provided or available to all townships and cities within the County as a part of the County's obligation under the law.

8.2 From time to time the City may request and the County will furnish the services of one or more additional sheriff's officers to assist in the control of assemblies and incidental traffic at hours immediately following the termination of or immediately preceding the officers' regular shift. When such services are supplied, the City shall compensate the County at the regular overtime or holiday hourly rate, whichever is applicable, such rate to be computed by the Board of Wayne County Auditors by consideration of the relevant items shown in Schedule A, hereto.

8.3 The City may contract for law enforcement service on the basis of one patrol car or multiple or fraction thereof. The City will pay for such service in the proportion which the multiple or fraction of basic law enforcement service contracted for bears to the rate for one patrol car in accordance with the accompanying Schedule A.

8.3(a) The foregoing rates shall be readjusted by the County Board of Auditors effective December 1st of each year to reflect a total increase or decrease in such rate equal in percentage to the increase or decrease in the salaries of uniformed personnel assigned to patrol cars. The City shall be notified of the new rate established by the Board of Auditors within 15 days after adoption by the County of salary rates applicable to the class of officers supplied to the City. Should salaries of the uniformed personnel assigned to patrol cars be changed by the County effective at a time not coincident with the commencement of the County fiscal year, the rates shall be adjusted to reflect a like percentage of change effective on the effective date of the salary rate change. Notice of the adoption of the change and the new rate shall be given by the County within 15 days after the adoption by the County Board of Commissioners.

8.4 The cost of other services requested pursuant to this agreement such as but not limited to crossing guard, school safety officer and license detail, shall include the salaries of employees engaged in performing said services, a pro-rate of vacation and sick leave, supervision of such employees while so employed, the County Retirement contribution and Workman's Compensation Insurance premiums on salaries, traveling expenses, supplies, and a pro-rate of all indirect expenses. "Costs" as used herein shall not include items of expense attributable to all cities within the County as part of the County's obligation to enforce State law. If the cost of providing the services changes at any time, the City shall be notified of each such change in writing, and the same shall be effective on the 1st of the calendar month next following giving of such notice.

8.5 Each County officer or department performing any service hereunder shall render to said City at the close of each six months after the effective date of the contract an itemized statement covering all services performed during said six months, and said City shall pay County therefor within 20 days after receipt of such statement.

8.6 The Sheriff shall provide monthly reports of all activities related to their enforcement obligation within the City and any other reports as may be requested by the Mayor, without charge.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF: the City of Romulus, under the authority of the State of Michigan, Act. 8, Extra Session of 1967, by Resolution duly adopted by its Council, has caused this agreement to be signed by its Mayor and attested by its Clerk, and the County of Wayne, by action of its Board of County Commissioners, has caused these presents to be subscribed by the Chairman thereof and attested by its Clerk, and the governmental entities have affixed their respective seals hereto, on the day and year first above written.

AND ANYTHING ELSE & Santa Claus had a busy time when he visited the Beverly Elementary School last Monday. Anjanette Kemp, a kindergarten student, ponders a bit on Santa's inquiry.

A HAPPY MOMENT — Durrice Green, 5, and Stacy Rush, 5, pupils at Beverly Elementary School, spent a happy moment or two on Santa's lap last Monday afternoon when Santa visited the school. Santa told them that he would make sure that their gifts were delivered on time.

Record number dropped from roll

A record number of registrations has been cancelled, according to Leonard J. Folmar, city clerk.

The number of persons whose vote registration was cancelled for failure to ballot in elections held during the last two years amounted to 1,506, reports Mrs. Deana Lovenduski, deputy clerk.

The cancellation of vote registrations of those persons who fail to vote in a two-year period is required by state laws.

Romulus' total vote registrations stood at 8,519 for the Nov. 3 election. It now stands at 7,013.

Applications for continuance of vote registration will be mailed this week to all persons whose names have been cancelled.

They are being asked to return application by Jan. 30. The applications require date of birth, mother's maiden name and signature of applicant.

I, Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk for the City of Romulus, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the minutes of the Regular Meeting of the Romulus City Council held on December 10, 1970 at the Waterboard Building.

Boy Scout Troop 1739 holds court of honor

Boy Scout Troop 1739, headed by Scoutmaster Charles R. Kline, held its third court of Honor at the Harrison Elementary School.

In conjunction with the affair, held on Dec. 14, the mother's auxiliary, headed by Mrs. Kenneth McCallum, presented the troop with its first dinner, with 55 parents and guests in attendance.

Scout Owen McLean, troop bugler, called mess call at 6 p.m. with the dinner ending at 7:20 p.m.

The official court of honor ceremonies began at 7:30 p.m. with Scout McLean playing Assembly and then Colors, highlighting the candle light ceremony for the American Flag.

EDITOR'S NOTE—Beginning with this week's issues of the Belleville Enterprise and Romulus Roman, news of various clubs will be grouped into round-up stories and appear under common headings. For example, all stories pertaining to 4-H activities will be grouped together, as will groups like the PTA's in the area, cub packs, scouts, etc., each in their own category. All normal deadlines will remain the same for stories to appear in the newspapers.

During the proceedings candidate Stanley Marciniak was officially taken into the troop and accepted as a Tenderfoot Scout into the Hungry Wolves Patrol. He was presented his Patrol Patch by Patrol Leader Michel McCallum. Scoutmaster Kline presented his Tenderfoot Badge with his mother placing the patrol neckerchief around his neck.

In return Scout Marciniak presented his mother, Mrs. Edward Marciniak with the Mother's Tenderfoot Pin, and to his father, Edward Marciniak, the scout lapel insignia.

Following the ceremony was the installation of a new patrol called the "Eager Eagles," led by Patrol Leader Harvey Millar and including Scouts Dale Mullins and Kenney Clelland, and candidates John Fulmer, Marco Hernandez and John Owens.

During this occasion Millar was sworn into office and was presented with his Patrol Leader's Rank badge and warrant.

Immediately following the "Eager Eagles" Patrol installation, presentations of Second Class Scout were awarded to Patrol Leaders Harvey Millar and Michel McCallum.

Scoutmaster Kline administered the oath of rank to each and presented them with their second class badge. Mrs. Charles R. Kline and Mrs. Kenneth McCallum were presented by their sons with the Second Class Mother's Pin. The addition each new Second Class Scout was presented with a Boy Scout Coin, having inscribed the Scout Oath and the Scout Laws on each side of the coin.

Scout Stanley Marciniak was then presented with his Assistant Patrol Leader's Patch for the Hungry Wolves Patrol.

Scouts Harvey Millar and Michel McCallum were each presented with the one-year attendance award for being present at more than 95 percent of all called Scout activities. Each of these scouts were also presented with Scoutmaster Kline's own one year pins.

Boy Scout Troop 1739 announces the addition of five new candidates to its roster. They are Keith Kraushaar, John Owens, Marco Hernandez, John Fulmer and Walter Orme. Each boy was presented with his tenderfoot advancement Card.

Scoutmaster Kline, on behalf of himself and the troop committee, presented Scouts Harvey Millar and Michel McCallum with Troop service plaque awards for their devotion and loyalty to Boy Scout Troop 1739 for 1970, in which they had tried to better and promote the spirit of Scouting.

Scout Dale Mullins was cited for his services to the court of honor by making the troop's flag stand when one was badly needed.

Scoutmaster Kline also thanked the fathers and parents of the boys for their help and cooperation in making the troop's first year a memorable one.

Cubs awards presented

Cub Scouts of Pack 830 were presented with awards and honors a Dec. 16 meeting.

Three boys who were welcomed into Webelos are Jon McEachern, Tom Rarick and David Meyer.

Webelos leader Art Brown announced that the den was now full and another leader was badly needed. As a surprise to the mothers received pins identical with the awards received by their sons.

Pack 830 visits hospital

Sixty patients in the men's ward at Wayne County General Hospital heard the voices of the boys of Dens two and five of Cub Scout Pack 830 last Thursday when the boys went to visit with gifts and songs.

The cubs circulated throughout the ward, giving gifts and assisting patients in small ways to be more comfortable.

"This was the wonderful, true spirit of Christmas," said Den mother, Mrs. Nolene Suessine. "Their voices never sounded sweeter as when they walked past each bed singing their carols," she added.

Following the hospital visit, Cubs from Den Five were dinner guests of Tony Suessine and Jon McEachern, who were celebrating entering Webelos. Hamburgers, French Fries and soft drinks were served.

Scouts still selling items

With 1970 coming to a close, the Scouts and candidates of Troop 1739 are in their final leg in a fund raising endeavor to have all the boys go to the nation's capitol, Washington, D.C.

For those people who would like to have last minute Christmas items and decorations please contact Scoutmaster Charles R. Kline at 941-5677 for home showing and delivery.

In tune with "Keep America Beautiful," the Troop will have available trash can liners year round, with home delivery available. This will be one of the troop's projects in trying to keep the community clean and free of litter. For those interested please call the scoutmaster at the above phone number any time during 1971.

Parents and boys are welcome to attend the troop's meetings held every Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the Harrison Elementary School.

Den collects toys for tots

A Toys for Tots collection project, sponsored by the Cub Scouts and Webelos Den 1, of the Hayti Elementary School, was termed successful by Den Mother Carole Rarick.

Collections were made last Friday and Saturday when a station wagon full of bikes, sleds, train sets, other toys and dolls was collected to donate to the U.S. Marine Corps, who jointly sponsor the project.

MAGICIAN AT WORK—Mr. Trix, a magician from Detroit, was one of the featured highlights at last week's Christmas party sponsored by the Belleville Rotary Club for area children. More than 100 children watched the magician perform some of his magic. Karen Culver of Belleville acted as the magician's assistant during part of his performance.

Belleville women's husband takes part

Among the authors of a massive modernization plan announced last week by the U.S. State Department is John H. Curry.

Curry is the husband of the former Kathryn Pavelka of Belleville. He is from Fostoria, Ohio.

He was a member of the task force concerned with "Performance Appraisal and Promotion Policies." He is presently serving as an international economist in the department. Since entering the Foreign Service in 1966, he has been stationed in Mexico City.

In accepting the plan and directing that work begin immediately on implementing it, Secretary of State William P. Rogers said that the changes it proposes "will greatly strengthen the Department of State and make possible more effective management of our foreign relations."

Yule is theme at meeting

A Christmas theme carried through all the activities of Webelos and Cub Scout Pack 830, when it met on Dec. 16 at Hayti Elementary School, Romulus.

The meeting was opened with a nativity scene presented by Den, One. Following awards and recognitions, den leaders led parents and Cubs in caroling.

With the singing of "Jingle Bells," St. Nick accompanied by Christmas Carol, surprised the boys.

Presenters of identification bracelets were given the Cubs, flashlights went to the Webelos and candy canes were given to all.

Scout Master Jack Rarick was rewarded as he sat on Santa's knee and told of his Christmas wishes.

Refreshments of cookies, punch and coffee and served at the close of the meeting.

500,000 letters make boy happy

By KAY SEMION

Robert Miller is having the happiest Christmas of his life. Cards and letters and presents are coming from everywhere — The White House, Disneyland, The Boy Scouts of America, The U.S. Marines, The U.S. Navy, Miss Michigan, the Kansas Royals, the U.S. astronauts.

The amount of mail the Inkster Post Office has delivered to his house, by truckloads, numbers close to 500,000.

Bobby, 7, of 1137 Harrison Ave., Inkster, has Werdnig-Hoffman disease, a genetic disorder that destroys muscle tissues.

Bobby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miller, are optimistic that this will not be the brown-eyed boy's last Christmas, as doctor's have predicted. Last year, his two-year-old sister, Theresa, died from the same disease.

"The doctor's said that last year was Bobby's last Christmas," said the optimistic, but fragile Mrs. Miller. "You can go by what the doctors say or you can go by what you believe God does. I am hoping that it is God's will that Robert will be cured."

Mrs. Miller said that Robert talks often about Jesus and God and about dying. "He likes me to read from the Bible; he carries around his father's old Navy Bible."

"He was carrying it when the man came to give him his Boy Scout pin," she said. Mrs. Miller explained that the Boy Scouts made Bobby an official member, even though the age limit is 11. "That was the most exciting thing that happened to him," she said.

Visiting with the Miller family during the week of Christmas is an exalting experience. The Millers and their friends and relatives who have come to help open gifts and letters are excited about the good wishes being sent in to Bobby.

They talk about how the presents, cards and letters will make Bobby happy. And everyone is welcomed to the house.

Bobby, who could develop complications if he catches pneumonia, has moved to his grandmother's house in Romulus to stay until after the commotion dies down.

"But we talk to him about 20 times a day on the telephone," said Mr. Miller, a truck driver for Distran. He said his employers have been good about easing his work load as a result of the large mail deliveries and visitors.

Originally, Bobby's grandmother thought it would be great if he received about 150 letters, said Inkster Postmaster Stephen Jakobowski. "But no one expected anything like this."

The mail for Bobby keeps pouring in from all over the world. Postmen are working overtime sorting the mail, Jakobowski said. A stack of mail reaching almost to the ceiling and three columns deep stood at the rear of the Post station. "That's just from one day," Jakobowski said.

That amounted to about 140,000 to 160,000 letters received Monday, he said, plus about 150 special delivery letters and packages. "The Millers have their basement filled with the mail we've already delivered," he said.

Stories have appeared in papers throughout the nation about Bobby and his desire to have lots of Christmas cards.

"This is wonderful," said Mrs. Miller, sitting in a chair in the living room of their house. All around were boxes of mail, opened and unopened, gifts circling the Christmas tree and over by the couch, in the hallway and in the kitchen.

"I didn't know that there were that many good people around," said Mr. Miller.

Bobby has been in the hospital three times in the last year, they said. He understands about death because he was in the hospital bed across from his sister, Theresa, when she died last year.

But Mrs. Miller said that he does not know that the doctors have predicted this may be his last Christmas. Bobby has a strong will to live, she explained.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller told

37 per cent

Thirty-seven percent of milk purchased by consumers today is in half-gallon containers and 25 per cent is in gallons.

about the second time Bobby was in the hospital last year. "He went into double pneumonia. We thought he was gone," said Mrs. Miller.

Mrs. Miller explained that they were trying to buy their house, but the deal had not been cleared. They were living with relatives.

"I was with Bobby, and Ralph went down to call the realtors. He came to me and said 'The house went through,' and I said, 'You're lying.' He said, 'Would I lie at time like this?'"

I lifted up the plastic and told Bobby we had a house all of our own and he could have a dog of his own, and he started smiling.

Added Mr. Miller: "His lungs began to clear up the next day."

"Your know," said Mrs. Miller, "I used to feel cheated. I didn't have a little boy or girl that would grow up. But I don't now. I have experienced so much in so little time. It's like God let me have that experience."

Some of the cards and letters contain money for the Millers. At first, they would not accept it. Then, said Mrs. Miller, a telephone operator told her to swallow her pride and take the money for Bobby. The money is being kept for the Millers at the Inkster Police Station.

It's going to be used for him. He is going to get a new brace, which he has needed for months. He is going to get a new chair.

Although physically weak, Bobby is mentally strong, and enjoys the Christmas good will, said Mrs. Miller.

Ask IRS

Q. What records should I have to claim an exemption who doesn't live with me?

A. The key records you will need are those showing what the person's total support for the year amounted to and that you provided more than half of it. Included in support are such items as food, shelter, clothing, education and medical expenses.

Besides support, the other dependency tests must also be met. For more details, send a post card to your IRS district office and ask for Publication 501 "Your Exemption and Exemptions for Dependents," which covers dependents. This is free.

Q. Can I file my tax return now? I'm through working and back in school.

A. A tax return can only be filed after the end of the tax year, which is December 31 for most individuals.

Make sure you have the Form W-2 wage and earning statement your employer gave you after you stopped work. A copy of the W-2 must be attached to your return when you file. If you did not receive it or lost it, contact your former employer and ask him to send you the W-2 or another copy.

Q. I retired early because of illness. Will my company pension be taxable?

A. It all depends on the kind of pension plan your company has, the amount of your pension, your age and the normal retirement age under the plan. Many disability pensions will qualify for treatment as sick pay until you reach normal retirement age. Up to $100 a week may ordinarily be excluded from income as sick pay.

After you reach normal retirement age the tax on your pension depends on how much you contributed to its cost.

Further details may be found in Publication 522, "Adjustment to Income for Sick Pay," and Publication 524, "Retirement Income and Retirement Income Credit." Send a postcard to your IRS District Office for free copies.

IN LOVING MEMORY of my beloved husband and father, Edward B. Hightower, who passed away 1 year ago today, December 24, 1969. Our memory is a keepsake. With which we will never part. Though God had you in his keeping. We still have you in our hearts. Sadly missed by his wife and children, Alice Hightower, Helen, Shirley, Sharon, Doris, Charles & Jim.

SKATING AND HOCKEY ASSOCIATION FORMED — The Southwestern Wayne County Skating and Hockey Association has been formed in Belleville. The association's objective is to promote ice skating and hockey in southwestern Wayne County. James

Hockey-skating club forms in Belleville

An incorporated group known as the Southwestern Wayne County Skating and Hockey Association, whose primary objective is to promote ice skating and hockey in southwestern Wayne County has been formed.

With the assistance of James Kokowicz of Detroit, president of the Michigan Amateur Hockey Association, this new Belleville association and is working toward its objectives. The association holds its meetings at Belleville High School.

Mrs. L. L. Lorentson, president, presides over the association meetings. She is assisted by Donald Smith, Robert Johnson, treasurer AALL OF Belleville area.

It is hoped that this newly formed association with the backing of its officers and members will become a strong and vital addition to the Michigan Amateur Hockey Association and to the athletic and recreational needs of the community.

This season is well under way for one existing hockey team, the Hawks, which represents this association and is manned by students of Belleville High School. It is hoped that in the near future, other teams in different age categories will be organized, registered with the Michigan Amateur Hockey Association and begin play in league competition. All students participating in this program are covered by accident insurance.

This is but the beginning of the association's endeavors to help meet the recreational needs of the community's youth.

The Association is looking for interested people to share in their endeavors.

Interested persons may contact Darryl Raymond, resident agent for the association at 699-4891 or Mrs. Lorentson.

Vocational center recommended

Four Wayne County Area Vocational Centers to be operated by the Wayne County Intermediate School District have been recommended by the Master Plan Committee of the Wayne County Occupational Education Advisory Committee.

Co-Chairmen Carl Morris and Norman Stockmeyer of the Advisory Committee accepted the recommendation from Master Plan Committee Chairman Simon Kachaterian, superintendent of Taylor Public Schools, at the December general session of the Advisory Committee.

Three of the four area vocational centers would be located in the northwest, central, and downriver areas of Wayne County.

A fourth area vocational center would be constructed in the Hamtramck-Highland Park area to serve the Harper Woods-Grosse Pointe areas.

Specific locations for the four vocational area centers have yet to be decided. An advisory site committee, consisting of one board member from each of the 36 local school districts, will make site recommendations.

To determine the most favorable locations for Wayne County's four vocational area centers, two major factors will be taken into consideration: Population density and Student accessibility.

The current population density in Western Wayne County lies in the eastern portion of this segment of the county. Placement of centers should logically be through the heart of this population belt. Locating the initial centers in this heavily populated area would provide optimum accessibility for the majority of students.

Financing construction and operation of the four area vocational centers, types of programs for students, and the manpower needs of the community to be met by these new vocational centers will be reported at the Jan. 21, 1971 meeting of the Wayne County Occupational Advisory Committee.

Milliken sets up mobile home study

The governor's task force on mobile homes is making the most comprehensive study of mobile home living ever made in Michigan, its chairman said recently.

State Commerce Director Richard E. Whitmer said Gov. William G. Milliken asked the task force to recommend legislation that will help improve the quality of living for the nearly 200,000 Michigan citizens who live in mobile homes.

Whitmer, speaking at the second annual Michigan

Mobile Home and Recreational Vehicle Dealer Seminar at Michigan State University, said task force members are reviewing all Michigan laws directly affecting mobile homes and their owners as well as laws in other states.

"We plan to hold public hearings to hear the views of manufacturers, dealers, mobile park operators, mobile home owners and state and local officials," he said.

"Our goal is to recommend to the governor a package of legislation that will, if enacted, give Michigan the best mobile home laws in America."

Whitmer said that task force is looking into all aspects of mobile home living—construction standards, zoning, licensing and titling of mobile homes, methods of taxation, licensing of mobile home park developers and operators, and methods of financing mobile homes.

"Our preliminary studies indicate most mobile home dwellers are satisfied with mobile home living," he said. "However, based on letters that task force has received as well as letters that have been sent to Gov. Milliken, a number of mobile home residents and others connected with the industry believe some changes are needed."

"Any industry that has grown as fast as the mobile home industry has in recent years is bound to have growing pains. We hope to come up with the answers to these problems to insure continued growth of this important industry."

Whitmer said the number of mobile home lots in licensed parks in Michigan has nearly doubled during the last five years to more than 50,000 today.

He said about 125,000 Michigan citizens live in more than 800 licensed mobile home parks. An estimated 75,000 persons live in 30,000 mobile homes that are located outside parks.

Grosser-Ammon marry

Nuptial vows repeated in afternoon ceremony

Candlelight formed the setting December 5 as Christine Germaine Ammon and Joseph Grosser exchanged nuptial vows and wedding bands. The five thirty o'clock ceremony at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville was read by the Rev. Charles Dibley before some 100 assembled guests. Parents of the young couple are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ammon of 19785 Wilmet Road, Belleville, and Henry Grosser of 272 Maple Road, Troy.

ENTERING THE sanctuary with her father, Chris appeared in a formal gown of peau de soie embellished with lace appliques, seed pearls and sequins. Designed with an A-line skirt, back detailing was created with the use of a chapel train. The little fitted bodice featured a high neckline and bishop sleeves with wide lace cuffs.

Her silk illusion veil fell to elbow-length from an arrangement of lace petals and she carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations centered with a corsage of lavender-tipped flowers.

Maid of honor for her best friend, Kathi Kleptaz of Belleville was gowned in avocado green. The Juliet-style frock was fashioned with puffy sleeves and an empire waistline traced with ribbon matching that which wound through Miss Kleptaz's cascading curls.

Karen Chevela of Belleville donned a Christmas green ensemble identical to the honor maid's. Both attendants carried white candles set in poinsettia bases trimmed with long streamers.

BEST MAN was Gary Schultz of Detroit. Others on the esquire side were Dennis Grosser of Detroit and Lance Ammon, brothers of the bridal pair; and Anthony Schrafran of Detroit, cousin of the bridegroom.

At the reception which followed in the V.F.W. Hall, some 150 guests were received by Mrs. Ammon in a formal A-line gown of gold and green brocade. Velma Rose, who was escorted by the bridegroom's father, donned a long gown of pink chiffon.

A graduate of Belleville High School and the Ann Arbor Practical Nurse Education Center, Chris is currently working as a licensed practical nurse at Beyer Hospital, Ypsilanti. Her husband graduated from Houghton Lake High School and is an employee of Metropolitan Delivery, Highland Park.

The newlyweds are now at home at 51045 Willis Road, Belleville.

Dinner party marks couple's fifth wedding anniversary

By MRS. JOSEPH SPRING
OX 9-94021

Sunday dinner guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Saunders of Liberty St. were their son Lynn and wife of St. Clair Shores. The occasion was a belated fifth wedding anniversary for the young couple. The next morning the younger Mrs. Saunders had the misfortune to fall on her way to work and she is now a patient at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Detroit with a broken bone in her spine. So instead of nursing there she is being nursed.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Potts of 380 Liberty St. are announcing the birth of a baby girl at Annapolis Hospital, Wayne, Tuesday, December 8, weight 6 lbs., 2 1/2 oz. The little one has been named Andrea Lynn.

Mrs. Anna Steve of Ishpeming is spending some time with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Clark, of Liberty St.

Sp. 5 and Mrs. Guy Ransom of E. Huron River Dr. left last Friday for Bensenville, Illinois, where they will spend the holidays with his parents, the Charles Ransoms. On Tuesday of last week Thomas A. Rankine of Phoenix, Arizona, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mericle of Denton Rd. Mr. Rankin is the Kasler-Frazier club editor.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Orr of Harmony Lane spent Sunday at Fort Wayne, Indiana, with the latter's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. John Hartzell, he having just returned from the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. George Haft of Church St. and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hyde of E. Columbia Ave. were guests of the former's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Jahner of Tecumseh.

On Monday, December 4, Mr. Charles (Mary) Dorin of Biggs St. and Mrs. H.E. (Sadie) Kemp of Belleville Rd. attended funeral services for their mother, Mrs. George (Freda) Luguza, of Highland Park at the First Romanian Baptist Church where she had been a member for 54 years.

Mrs. Luguza passed away December 10 at the age of 77 years. Burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery in Detroit. She is survived by her husband, George, five daughters, two grandchildren, and several sisters and brothers in Romania. The Luguza family formerly lived on Van Born Rd. in Detroit.

After several days in Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit, Mrs. Jay (Marie) Murphy is now convalescing at home on McBride Rd.

Mrs. M.C. Fielder of Henry St. spent several days this past week at the Ypsilanti home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fryman.

PARTY PRETTY — The distaff side of the James Fitch family was the center of attention last Tuesday at the Belleville Kiwanis Christmas party at St. Anthony's School. Carol Fitch (background) and her three daughters Pamela, 10; Holly, seven; and Cynthia five, were in look-alike frocks of robin egg's blue polyester crepe, the girls being in long (or maxi, as Pam calls it) length with their mom's being street-length and sleeveless. Mrs. Fitch made the four dresses in two days especially for the holiday party and trimmed her work with aqua, yellow and green floral braid and aqua velvet sashes. The girls (whose dad is secretary of the Kiwanis Club) also wore matching holly and bell arrangements in their hair.

Sorority entertains patients at hospital

The December meeting of Gamma Gamma Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa took the form of a Christmas Party held December 7 at the Adolescent Service Center of Ypsilanti State Hospital for the teen-age girl patients.

The refreshment table, made attractive with Christmas candles and plates heaped with homemade cookies, was centered with a punch bowl.

Each of the 22 girls received a personalized red felt stocking made by a chapter member and filled with jewelry, perfume, candy, and other items which delighted the girls.

Mrs. Clyde Batzer and Mrs. James Salisbury, both

WOMEN Of The MOOSE

By SANDRA WILLIS

Georgia Patzgen and Margaret Mehila were installed as new co-workers in Belleville Chapter No. 1135 Dec. 14.

There will be no fish fries on the holidays, Dec. 25 and Jan. 1, since the Lodge will be closed those two days. The dinners will be resumed Jan. 8.

The Belleville Moose Home, E. Huron River Dr., will be the receiving center for Vets dogfood labels which will be used to purchase a seeing eye dog for some deserving citizens in the community. Let's all do our part to make this a successful drive.

Coury-Burm nuptials read in candlelight

The First United Methodist Church of Belleville was reserved November 25 for the marriage of Cheryl Burm and David L. Coury. Some 200 guests were assembled for the seven o'clock rite read by the Rev. Charles Dibley.

For the candlelight ceremony, the altar was appointed with vases of yellow and white pomps. Organist was Tom Dewitt.

The bride, who resided at 815 Valley Circle Drive, Saline, is the daughter of Mrs. Peter G. Burm of 44580 Harris Road, Belleville. The bridegroom is the son of Nicholas Coury of Saline and Mrs. Doris Coury of Clinton.

Her brother, Kevin, eight, carried out the duties of ringbearer.

Heading the list of groomsmen was Richard Coury of Clinton, brother of the bridegroom, as best man. Ushers were Gilbert Burm of Westland, brother of the bride; Robert Coury of Clinton, brother of the bridegroom; and Douglas Lane of Clinton.

A blue beaded frock was the choice of Mrs. Burm for her daughter's wedding with a rose ensemble being worn by the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Coury. Both added corsages of miniature white carnations to their ensembles.

Following their reception at the Romulus Progressive Club the newlyweds took up residence at 815 Valley Circle Drive, Saline.

A graduate of Belleville High School and Eastern Michigan University, Cheryl is currently employed by Clinton Public Schools.

Her husband spent four years with the U.S. Air Force after graduating from Saline High School and is now with Goetzcraft Printers, Ann Arbor.

Dorothy Sullivan weds

MSU's Alumni Chapel is scene of wedding

Michigan State University graduates, Dorothy Lynn Sullivan and Edward Allan Vartanian, chose the Alumni Memorial Chapel at East Lansing for their December 12 marriage. The double ring ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Wallace Robertson at seven thirty in the evening.

Parents of the young couple are Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Sullivan of 36970 Sibley Road, New Boston, and Mr. and Mrs. Ajax Vartanian of 810 Slocum Whitehall.

Escorted to the altar by her father, Dorothy appeared in a toe-touching creation of ivory peau de soi and Chantilly lace, designed with a high-rise neckline and long sleeves with wide belted cuffs centered with peau de soi bows. A chapel-length wateau train added back interest to the gown.

A lace Juliet cap secured the bride's silk illusion veil which drifted to mid-back length and she carried a bouquet of cream-colored roses.

As her sister's honor attendant, Elizabeth Sullivan of East Lansing, wore a floor-length gown fashioned with an ivory chiffon skirt and a long-sleeved gold, empire bodice. A gold Juliet cap and bouquet of pink and cream-colored roses completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Gerald R. Sullivan traveled from Arlington, Virginia to serve as bridesmaid for her sister-in-law. Her attire was identical to the maid of honor's.

ROY BUCKINGHAM of East Lansing served as best man. Others on the esquire side were Michael Larsen of East Lansing; Robert Vartanian of Whitehall, brother of the bridegroom; and Gerald R. Sullivan of Arlington, Virginia, brother of the bride.

The Kellogg Center on the M.S.U. campus was reserved for the reception which followed. The 175 guests were greeted by Mrs. Sullivan in a formal gown of turquoise chiffon with jewel trim and Mrs. Vartanian in a gold lace formal. Both mothers were presented with corsages of roses.

The new Mrs. Vartanian graduated from St. Mary's High School, Wayne, and Michigan State where she affiliated with Delta Gamma Sorority. She is currently employed at Crouse-Henderson Shoe Company.

An alumnus of Whitehall High School and M.S.U. where he affiliated with Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity, the bridegroom is employed by New England Life Insurance Company, East Lansing.

The newlyweds are now making their home at 2900 Northwind Drive, Apt. 613, East Lansing.

Rainbow Girls busy

The Belleville Order of Rainbow For Girls held its Installation Ceremonies in September electing Patti Whichello as Worthy Advisor. As Worthy Advisor she has many exciting events planned for her term.

To start things rolling, two sisters, Patricia and Deborah Flanagan, were initiated October 19 and in November she initiated Colette Pollard Denise Welt and Sonia Pack. Both initiations went very well and we hope to see the new girls at all of our meetings.

Patti planned a fun evening at Bimbo's Pizza, and a pajama party afterward. Everyone had so much fun they want to have another one soon. The girls also sold fresh donuts and made $30., which will be put to good use.

Some of the girls attended the meeting of Orange Ray, Saturday, Dec. 12. We have the job of making name tags for the guests. That will be lots of fun. We are hoping to introduce new people to Rainbow and maybe someday - YOU!

Soaring seventies

By 1980 it is estimated personal consumer spending will hit eight hundred billion dollars annually. About 66 percent of the American people will have a real income over $7,500 a year and one in four families will enjoy an income of over $15,000.

Pre-holiday week-end shows loaded calendar

SATURDAY WAS a busy, busy time for Belleville with three big weddings on the calendar, a number of house parties, and 'company' galas included.

The weddings (all at St. Anthony's) united six Belleville High graduates and brought together families of long-standing in the community. Jerry Bies and Pat Mason spoke their vows Saturday morning with Eddie Gielinski and Sharon Smolen following at one o'clock. The previous evening had been reserved for Mike Skidmore and Eva Nehez.

A.R. Liebelers play host

CHRISTMAS MELODIES, piped outdoors, greeted guests as they arrived at the A.R. Liebelers home on Ormond Drive Saturday. Lieb's special holiday decorations (Santa and his crew on the roof top) added to the festive aura of the evening.

Gwen's beautifully appointed hors d'oeuvre table held a selection of her 'specialties' as well as favorites contributed by the distaff aide of the guest list.

Partying 'til the wee hours were the Ron Sierotas, the Rod Masts, the Bill Hedges, the Don Copelands, and the Marshall Hopes.

How to Remove Holiday Stains

Christmas is a time for much merriment, but sometimes festivities result in a mishap — a spill resulting in a stain for Mom to cope with.

Most stains can be removed easily if the cause of the stain is known. Here are ways to remove some of the most common holiday stains as suggested in The Maytag Encyclopedia of Home Laundry.

CANDLE WAX — Scrape as much wax as possible off the fabric, using a dull knife. To remove remaining wax, place the fabric between two blotters and iron it with a warm iron. Any stain that remains can be removed with trichloroethane (fireproof Energine). Rinse and launder.

COFFEE AND TEA — Stretch the garment over a basin and pour boiling water, if safe for the fabric, through the spot. Launder, using a bleach recommended for type of fabric. If boiling water cannot be used, soak the fabric in warm water to which the proper type of bleach has been added. Launder. Grease spots from cream can be removed with trichloroethane (fireproof Energine).

ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES. Sponge with cold water, then glycerine and water. Rinse with vinegar water, followed by a clear rinse. Launder as you normally would.

FRUIT. Where boiling water can be used, stretch cloth over a bowl and pour boiling water through it. If the stain remains, sponge with lemon solution or hydrogen peroxide, where boiling water cannot be used, sponge well in cool water, work glycerine into stain. Let it stand several hours, then add a few drops of white vinegar and rinse thoroughly. Launder.

(If stained article cannot be washed with chlorine bleach and or hot water, the use of laundry additives containing enzymes may remove these stains.)

Clubsters gather at Van Buhler's

THE VAN BUHLERS — Ray and Lee—played host Saturday evening to their social club (a group which has been meeting for better than 20 years) for its traditional holiday party.

A buffet supper highlighted the evening's activities which also included a gift exchange. Being welcomed to the hosts' Venetian Street home were Wayneites, Harold and Georgiana Fry and Arden and Audrey Klopschinsky; Ypsilanti residents, Ray and Roberta Schrock and Herb and Dolores Shock; Eldon and Marie Lamkin from Willis; and local twosomes, Bob and Mildred Baker and Ray and Ginny Memering.

Cicottes entertain friends; office crew

AL AND DENA Cicotte entertained Saturday at their home on Lilac Lane. Al's agents and their wives as well as secretaries from the office (Al is Division Manager of the Dearborn Prudential Insurance branch) were special guests for the traditional party.

Out of town friends were also included on the guest list as were a number of local couples. About 40 in all enjoyed cocktails and hors d'oeuvres beginning at nine and a buffet supper at midnight.

Area guests were the Bill Doans, the Cecil Bartons, the Ted Thetfords, the Don Schimmels, and the Don Carlsons. Still others were Bob and Lucille Perry (arriving from a previous party), Leo and Virginia Turney, Ray and Lil Weber, Joe and Pat Schlund, Bob and Helen Fraser, and Louie and Flo Toth.

Teens serenade with Christmas carols

JENNIE HENNING also had week-end plans which called for having her South Junior High friends in for the evening. Caroling 'round about the High Street and Columbia Avenue neighborhoods took care of the earlier segment of her plans with pizza, dancing and girl talk following until eleven.

Her guest list included Sandy Scothorn, Ann Paas, Nancy Muse, Sue Smith, Kim Haveranek, Lisa Young, Joy Russell, Timarie Ellis, Karen Greathouse, and Judy Fredrick.

Home Arts party held at Sierota home

The president of the Home Arts Club, Jan Sierota, opened her lovely home on Quirk Road for the group's annual holiday party Monday, December 14. Some 35 members were present to enjoy pre-Christmas activities planned by Charlotte Budd and her program committee: Dorothy Florian, Sally Jones, and Ruth Hayes.

Several games were interspersed with poetry and readings pertinent to the season. Winners of the hand, fashioned door prizes were Sharlene Tator, Janet Patterson and Barb Forsythe.

A gift exchange took place around the all-gold trimmed tree where packages bore parts of a Christmas card puzzle. Members found the correct present by matching pieces of the puzzle which had been created by the program committee.

Moving from the family room area, guests were invited to a buffet of little finger sandwiches, green and red jello salad, and an assortment of Christmas cookies. A candle arrangement of fresh white carnations, greenery and red ornament balls served as centerpiece.

Intellectual and dining rooms, candlelight set the mood as the group dined at tables for four and six covered with red or green cloths and lace doilies.

Hostesses for the evening, preparing and serving refreshments, were the executive committee: Jan Sierota, Lee Smith, Charlotte King, Mary Anne Hudge, and Betty Gott.

MSU grad honored at party

Cynthia Daroci, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Daroci of 130 Angola Street, Belleville, graduated Dec. 5 from Michigan State University.

She received her Bachelor of Science degree in home economics and is planning to teach.

In honor of the event, the Darocis hosted a graduation party at their home Dec. 13 with friends and relatives attending. Guests from Manitou Beach, Brooklyn, Garden City, Southgate, Wyandotte, Flat Rock, New Boston, Wayne, Romulus, and Belleville helped celebrate the occasion.

St. Stephens groups hold joint party

The Mothers Guild and Altar Society of St. Stephen's Church combined their efforts for a joint Christmas party held Dec. 9.

A representative from Michigan Consolidated Gas showed slides of new holiday baking and decorating ideas and presented a 1970 holiday cook booklet to each member.

A smorgasboard of assorted main dishes and desserts followed, the table being centered with a Feast Day Cake for Sister Mary Virginia. Chairman Sharon Haener was assisted by Mrs. Germain and Mrs. Wicker.

An announcement by Mr. McMahon of the Gabriel Richard Institute concerned the leadership skills classes which will be held at St. Stephen's after Jan. 11. The nine sessions will include 'How to think on your feet.'

Land usage

At present one-third of the world's land area is tilled or in pasture; one-fifth covered by snow and ice; two-fifths occupied by deserts, mountains or arid zones. An estimated reserve of 950 million acres are available for tillage. Of these acres, 125 million must be tilled every year to meet food requirements for the 70 million annual increase in population.

Here's hoping that beautiful things lie ahead for all our valued customers during the Christmas season.

PASS IT ON by L.M. Boyd

In Boston just 28 years ago an inventor of large imagination and little foresight patented a peculiar device. It was designed to help ladies get rid of that natural adornment called midriff bulge. They were to wear it around their waists like a money belt. And when they relaxed the abdominal muscles, compressing the clever little harness, it delivered forth a blatant warning whistle most startling to anybody not familiar with the thing. The girls who wore it once in public rarely wore it twice, and it failed financial success, unfortunately.

Clients comment — "Mister, if you think the right front seat of a car is three times as dangerous as the rear seat," writes a coed, "then you've never been to a drive-in movie." "It says in the animal book that if you pick up a skunk by the tail, he's helpless," writes a gentleman subscriber, "but the one I picked up hadn't read the book."

Am accused by a female customer of being sardonic if not downright cynical, and she inquires when this skepticism first set in. As I recall, it was shortly after high school graduation just about when my lifetime pen ran out of ink... Our toastmaster wants to know who wrote this "Oh, too much work and no vacation... Is sufficient cause for a little libation... So rally around boys, and fill up your glasses... Work is the curse of the drinking classes!" Any notion?

General tendencies: Disagreeing openly with others could take away from the harmony and the happiness that is so desired and to be expected during this season of goodwill and peace. Carry through with agreements already made and do nothing to start a new venture that is permanent.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) It's an ideal day to handle all financial affairs wisely, pay bills, look into new and profitable ventures. Show tact with an advisor you have long trusted. He or she may be off on some tangent now.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Your ideas may differ from those of an associate who has much influence, so do not push this person too far, or you get into trouble. Show a more comprising attitude. Make the evening a happy one by being cheerful, tactful.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) Forget fun and get at all that accumulated work ahead of you and then you can later go out for recreation. Co-workers expect much of you, so do not disappoint them. Make this a very productive and happy day.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) Accepting invitations extended to you brings fine results. You can do some entertaining, also. Join with those you like and have a wonderful time. Avoid heavy expenses, though.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) Instead of criticizing kin so much, build up their ego — and they will do more for you and for themselves. Relaxing at home in P.M. is very good for you and you can catch up on reading. Contentment can be yours.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Think out what still has to be done in preparing for the coming holidays and get busy at such duties. You have fine ideas and can gain the goodwill of those around you. Save time for personal duties, also.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Much depends upon how you handle financial affairs now, and then the future can be much brighter for you. An advisor has excellent ideas so be sure to ask for them. Don't be so adamant. Show that you have ambition.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Provided you do nothing to annoy an associate, you are able to do what you actually want to do. Some new venture you have in mind requires only your own attention. Get busy at it and make it succeed.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Show that you handle personal matters efficiently and can keep information confidential. Confer with others and the future will be more to your liking. Avoid extravagance of any kind.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Ideal day to contact others and show your affection for them. Plan future projects in a way that is mutually agreeable. Attend a group affair that can be most helpful to you in the days ahead.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Get out into the business world and do those things that give you a better image. Show that you work constructively and cheerily. Cultivating higher-ups is your best bet right now. Show that you have ability.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You are highly inspired and can get your ideas across with ease and efficiency. Seek out influential persons who will give you their backing. Show that you have high principles.

If your child is born today he or she will be one of those delightful young people who will be filled with ideas and will have a practical plan for carrying them out; knows how to gain the cooperation of co-workers as well, and has a tremendous will few will be able to do anything about. Teach early to be a cooperative person and there can be much success in this chart, no matter what the forte may be. Leadership is possible here. Send to college of own choice.

My mother was a gentle literary lady. She didn't work at it. She worked at a stove in a cafe. But there had been a time. After Mills College. She had written fiction, poetry, critical treatises. Once, in the Depression, when gifted girls walked streets in search of sailors, I asked my mother what one book in all of literature meant the most to her, and she said, My cookbook. Later, at the University of Pittsburgh, I asked the same question of Prof. Edwin L. Peterson, another literary scholar of even greater depth, and he said, "My checkbook." Remember that, young fellow. TWO AREA MEN HONORED — Rev. Daniel Richert of Huron Township (left) and Henry Sietz of Sumpter Township (second from right) were among 34 former members of the board of directors of Peoples Community Hospital Authority honored at a recent PCHA recognition dinner. The plaques were awarded by Donald J. Pizzimenti (right), chairman of the PCHA board. Also receiving an award was John Crooks of Flat Rock.

PCHA official outlines rehabilitation advances

Dramatic advances in the development of a program of rehabilitation medicine in the four People Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) hospitals were summarized by Dr. Frederick B. House, director of this department, at the December meeting of the board of directors.

Since assuming his post with the authority in May, 1968, Dr. House has directed his efforts towards the development of a comprehensive program involving all the major functions of an effective rehabilitation medicine department.

In his outline of the progress made in just a little over two years, Dr. House made the following comments on the basic services now being provided to patients:

Physical therapy: There were only three trained and licensed physical therapists in the PCHA in 1968. We now have eight such qualified therapists.

In addition, our staff has trained 15 physical therapy assistants, 13 of whom continue to work in PCHA hospitals. The caseloads and levels of competence in treatments have increased accordingly.

Occupational therapy: This department has been beset by many forces beyond the control of PCHA. Since Blue Cross withdrew certain coverage in this area in 1968, we have found it necessary to change our direction. We have responded by developing a program in occupational therapy, which is entirely functional. This means each occupational therapy service is either treatment of function loss because of the medically diagnosed disease or injury, or is an evaluation procedure directed towards the disease or injury.

Our staff has been slightly reduced. We have continued our affiliation with the schools for occupational therapy and accept students for their required post-graduate clinical experience. The program in occupational therapy in the PCHA Hospitals is considered outstanding for moderate sized, acute care facilities.

Social work: One of my initial recommendations to Dr. Karl S. Klicka, executive director of the Authority, was to bring social workers into the PCHA hospitals. It has permitted the PCHA to offer many patients, and families of patients, counselling and casework services not otherwise available to them. It has also made possible much better coordination of services to both inpatients and outpatients.

Alcoholism therapy: Initiated in June of this year with impetus from the board and administration, a pilot Alcoholism Therapy program at Annapolis Hospital has given every indication of being most worthwhile. We are encouraged by early results with the first 40 patients treated and are now evaluating the need and feasibility for similar programs in the other three PCHA hospitals.

Rehabilitation conference: A weekly rehabilitation conference has been established at each hospital. Through this mechanism, we can take advantage of the observations of all who see the patient and can cooperatively set reasonable goals for disabled patients, as well as set in action procedures necessary to reach these goals.

Our work in developing a program for strokes has been reported at the Stroke Symposium held in Cobo Hall in May and will appear in printed form in the Journal of Michigan State Medical Society soon.

Amputee clinic: A regularly scheduled monthly evaluation clinic for amputees is conducted at Outer Drive Hospital. Dr. Thomas Green cooperates with the Rehabilitation Medicine staff in this activity.

Arthritis clinic: The most recent new offering in Rehabilitation Medicine is directed towards the needs of patients with arthritis at Annapolis Hospital. Members of the rehabilitation conference in cooperation with one of the orthopedic surgeons at Annapolis have scheduled a monthly conference on arthritis.

All members of the medical staff are invited to bring or send patients to us for recommendations concerning physical medicine, surgery, psychosocial problems and vocational problems associated with this disabling disease.

Hospital service to be improved

Four major changes aimed at improving services in the emergency department at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne have been initiated in recent weeks by Walter S. Wheeler, administrator.

Responding to a request from Mrs. Justine Barns, Westland representative on the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) board of directors, Wheeler summarized these innovations at the board's December meeting.

"A new contract with the emergency room physicians was negotiated recently," said Wheeler. "This contract now requires that a member of the group of physicians headed by Dr. Gust Petropoulos be present in the hospital at all times, this providing the hospital with assurance of full-time responsibilities of the contract group. Also, the contract provides that a second physician must be in attendance whenever the emergency room load might cause undue waiting on the part of patients."

"Secondly, our emergency area admitting and cashiering desks have been separated, and additional personnel added, to eliminate any bottlenecks in preparation of patient records for these services."

An automatic time stamp has been installed indicating the time of admission and discharge of each emergency room patient. This provides administration with necessary information to determine staffing patterns adequate to render fast, efficient service. It further provides us with information relative to any undue delay of patient services in the emergency and out-patient areas.

"The third change," said Wheeler, "involves making professional personnel more readily available to provide necessary nursing services in the area."

Continuing, Wheeler announced that a new position of Service Supervisor will be established in the near future for the day and afternoon shifts at Annapolis. It will be the responsibility of this person to see that patients are professionally handled from the time they enter the emergency and out-patient areas until they leave.

Also included in this supervisor's duties will be providing immediate attention to emergency patients and their families; relaying information to patient's relatives waiting in the emergency room; aid in expediting out-patients through the various out-patient services; assisting in explaining insurance
